ST. LOUIS POST-DISPATCH

The Only Evening Paper in St. Louis With the Associated Press News Service

FINAL EDITION CARDINALS' BOX SCORE (Complete Market Reports.)

VOL. 73. NO. 19. ST. LOUIS, FRIDAY EVENING, SEPTEMBER 17, 1920—32 PAGES. PRICE THREE CENTS

REGISTRATION IN CITY ESTIMATED TO BE 308,900

127,818 ESTIMATE OF WOMEN VOTERS

Returns From Residence Wards Heavier Than From River Wards—One Precinct Has 613 Women.

Complete figures on the four-day general registration here for the November election, which closed at 9 o'clock last night, were not available today because of the delay of many precinct election officials in turning over their books to the Board of Election Commissioners, but estimates of the commissioners, based on complete figures from 100 of the 600 precincts, placed the probable total registration at 308,916.

This would be by far the largest registration in the history of St. Louis. That in 1916 was the heaviest previous registration, with 173,760, only men registering.

The total estimated registration of women for the four days, based upon the same 100 precincts, is 127,818. It was the first time women had registered in St. Louis, and their first use here of the privileges extended to them by ratification of the Nineteenth Amendment to the Constitution of the United States.

Women 41.4 Per Cent.

Based upon the estimates, women form 41.4 per cent of the registered voting strength of St. Louis.

Unofficial totals for the four days indicate that the last day's registration was considerably larger than any of the others. The figures are as follows: Monday, 64,961; Tuesday, 73,368; Wednesday, 76,968; Thursday, 93,619.

Returns from scattering precincts indicate that the registration in the residence wards was much heavier than in the downtown and river wards. The largest registration which had been reported to the Election Commissioners this morning was in the Seventh Precinct of the Twenty-eighth Ward, at 5311 Pershing avenue, an apartment house neighborhood, where 673 men and 613 women registered, a total of 1286. The 1916 registration in this precinct was less than 500.

The Election Commissioners had redistricted the city just before this registration in an effort to have not more than 300 voters in a precinct, so as to facilitate voting on election day.

Only Six Women in Precinct.

The registration in many of the residence wards, however, has more than doubled that figure, which will mean heavy work for election officials and considerable delay in ascertaining the result of the November election vote in these precincts.

The lowest registration of women which had been reported today was in the Second Precinct of the Fifth Ward at 310 Morgan street, where 361 men and only six women registered. The Third Precinct of the Sixth Ward, at 524 Clark avenue, also had a low registration of women, only 41 of them registering, while 295 men placed their names on the books.

Practically all precincts reported a rush from 5 p. m. yesterday until the books were closed four hours later, long lines of persons, men and women, waiting in front of the booths.

Women Outnumber Men.

Samples of heavy registration in residence precincts, in each of which the number of women exceeded that of men, each precinct being complete for the four days, are as follows:

Twenty-eighth Ward, Twenty-eighth Ward, twenty-seventh precinct, 7153 Union avenue, 310 men and 358 women.

Packers' Separation Plan Opposed.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 17.—The plan proposed by the big five packers to dispose of their stockyard interests to F. H. Prine & Co. of Boston, will not result in the separation of the stockyards from packer interests, the Federal Trade Commission delared today in a report to Attorney General Palmer.

YARDMEN HERE, OUT SINCE APRIL, VOTE TO END STRIKE

171 Ballot to Call Off Walkout and 135 Against It—Meeting to Be Held Tonight.

Striking yardmen of the Terminal Association and of various railroads, members of the St. Louis Yardmen's Association, decided today to declare the end of their strike, which began April 8 last.

Balloting on the proposal to end the strike began at 7 o'clock last night at the strikers' meeting place, New Club Hall, Thirteenth street and Chouteau avenue, and continued until noon today. The announcement, made this afternoon, was that 171 had voted to call the strike off and 135 had voted to continue the strike.

A meeting is to be held tonight to discuss the time and conditions of returning to work. The strikers, it is anticipated, will have to go back without any claim to their seniority rights, which were forfeited when they refused to return within time limits laid down by the employing lines.

COX'S RUNNING MATE 'MAVERICK,' SAYS COL. THEODORE ROOSEVELT

"He Does Not Have the Brand of Our Family," Son of Former President Tells Rough Riders.

By the Associated Press.

SHERIDAN, Wyo., Sept. 17.—Lieutenant-Colonel Theodore Roosevelt and Raymond Robins, addressing two large audiences here yesterday, denounced the League of Nations as "the Wilson league" and attacked Cox's pre-war attitude, as they alleged it was reflected in the Democratic nominee's newspaper.

Roosevelt, addressing a troop of Rough Riders who met him at the station and referring to Franklin D. Roosevelt, Democratic Vice President nominee, said: "He is a maverick—he does not have the brand of our family."

A large crowd met the speakers at the train and escorted them through the streets to the hall where they spoke.

AMUNDSEN'S SHIP CAUGHT IN ICE ON THE SIBERIAN COAST

Captain of Fishing Vessel Brings Information of North Pole Explorer's Distress to Nome, Alaska.

By the Associated Press.

NOME, Alaska, Sept. 17.—Capt. Roauld Amundsen's expedition ship, the Maud, which left this port nearly two months ago, bound for the North Pole, is caught in the ice about 20 miles off Cape Serge on the Siberian coast, according to information brought here yesterday by Capt. Heckla, whose fishing boat was also icebound near the Maud.

Capt. Heckla said his vessel, being of light draft, worked its way out after being icebound near the Maud for 10 days, but that Capt. Amundsen's ship was still fast in the ice when the fishing boat left. He said Capt. Amundsen hoped to free the Maud soon and continue his journey

POLITICIANS WHO BOUGHT LIQUOR CO. DENIED 'DIVIDEND'

Enforcement Agent Refuses Permission to Divide Stock of Schneider Wholesale Wine & Liquor Co.

MEDICINAL SALES PERMIT ALSO REFUSED

Four of Partners Reported to Have Sold Holdings to Fifth—One Reports Loss of $1700 in Deal.

Alderman Edward Scholl, of the Third Ward, who was one of five politicians who recently purchased a controlling number of the shares of the Schneider Wholesale Wine and Liquor Co., 911 Franklin avenue, for about $30,000, said today that his reason for participation in the enterprise was the expectation of a "stock dividend." He was referring to a division among the five of the stock of liquor of the company, which occupies a three-story building. "I figured I would get enough whisky to last for life," Scholl added.

However, the purchasers' application to Prohibition Commissioner Kramer in Washington for such a "stock dividend" was denied. Kramer also refused to let the purchasers become wholesale distributors for medicinal purposes, as provided for in the Volstead act.

As related yesterday, 541 gallons of whisky, most of which has been identified by Federal agents as part of the stock of the company when they last made an inspection 30 days ago, was confiscated Wednesday night in a house and garage at 4910 Rosalie avenue, to which it had been brought during the afternoon.

Others in Purchase.

Alderman Scholl's associates in the purchase were Michael J. Whalen, Democratic committeeman from the Twenty-sixth Ward and a commission merchant at 907 North Fourth street; David J. O'Neil, a commission merchant; Ferd Warner, former member of the House of Delegates and a Republican precinct worker, and Otto Karbe of 1720 Nicholson place, an attorney.

It was related today that four of the partners, about Sept. 1, sold their interest in the company to the fifth, O'Neil. Alderman Scholl said that he lost $1700 in his pursuit of a "stock dividend."

O'Neil appeared at the Federal building today and gave over keys to the company building. An inspection will be made today to determine what part of the stock is missing.

It was said that O'Neil's explanation of the presence of the whisky at a place other than the one required by law was due to a "breach of trust" on the part of one of two other men to whom he disposed of some of the shares of the company.

Guarded Stock Personally.

It was said that O'Neil's agreement with the new holders of the shares was that they should take turns in personally guarding the stock and that one of the three, who since has disappeared, broke his agreement and removed some of the whisky stock.

Michael O'Connor, alias Split Connors, an ex-convict, was arrested at the Rosalie avenue house in which the Schneider liquor was found. Joseph H. Brogan, a Democratic State Senator, appeared as O'Connor's attorney and aided in obtaining $1000 bond on which W. J. (Boots) Brennan, a former member of the House of Delegates, was surety.

SLAUGHTERS 50 CHICKENS TO RECOVER $600 DIAMOND RING

Grocer, Who Had Just Bought Jewel, Lost Gem Putting Them in Coop.

By the Associated Press.

DAVENPORT, Ia., Sept. 17.—This is a tale, not of the goose that laid the golden egg, but of the chicken that ate a $600 diamond.

H. L. Walbourne, a grocer here, recently purchased 150 chickens and put them in a coop behind his shop. While unloading the chickens he struck his ring forcibly against the coop. Discovering later that the diamond from the ring was missing he made a thorough search of the coop without success. Walbourne decided one of the chickens had eaten it and a wholesale slaughter followed. The missing diamond was found in the gizzard of the fiftieth bird killed.

CHILDREN NARROWLY MISS BEING TAUGHT KAISER STILL RULES

Old Geographies Showing Germany All Powerful Sent to Edwardsville Schools.

Edwardsville school children have had a narrow escape from being taught that the German empire includes Alsace-Lorraine and that the Kaiser is its Emperor and that he is a "powerful monarch." Also that, next in strength to the German empire, is "the great Austro-Hungarian monarchy." And a lot of things like that, with maps to match.

Somebody looked through the geographies which had been sent by publishers for the beginning term of school and discovered what was in them and gave the alarm.

The Board of Education was quickly mobilized and apprised of the misinformation with which the children were threatened. A scrutiny disclosed that in one shipment the publishers had sent geographies of one type with copyright dates ranging over a period of 22 years. That sort of thing, the board decided, was a good plan for clearing the warehouses of out-of-date books, but it was calculated to load the children up with a lot of out-of-date information, and a demand will be made for the recall and replacement of the ancient geographies.

U. S. MINISTER HEARS STORY OF MAN HELD IN TRUNK MURDER

Prisoner in South America Gives List of Young Men With Whom He Boarded in New York.

By the Associated Press.

MONTEVIDEO, Uruguay, Sept. 16.—Robert Emmett Jeffery, United States Minister to Uruguay, today heard Morris Fox, in jail here as the suspected perpetrator of the Detroit and New York "trunk murder," tell a detailed story of his movements during the last few years. Fox requested to see Jeffery, asserting he would prove he was not Eugene Leroy, the man wanted by the Detroit police.

The Minister warned Fox that anything he might say might be used against him, and Fox replied: "I have nothing to conceal. I have lived straight and was never arrested before in my life. I want to tell you everything so you will believe I am Morris Fox and nobody else."

During the conversation, Fox named six young men with whom he boarded at Coney Island, New York, from May 1 to Aug. 2, 1920, and who could swear, he said, he was with them and not in Detroit when the murder in question was committed.

BARONESS VON STERNBERG TO MARRY INTERNED GERMAN

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Sept. 17.—The engagement of Baroness Speck von Sternberg, widow of the former German Ambassador to the United States, and before her marriage Miss Lillian May Langham of Kentucky, to Adolph Pavenstedt, who was interned on Ellis Island during the war as an enemy allen, was announced here today.

The wedding is to take place in France at the home of the Baroness' sister, wife of Admiral Count Faramond de La Fajole, it was stated.

The estate of the Baroness, said to be worth $1,000,000 before America entered the war, was taken over by the Allen Property Custodian, and she returned to this country in an effort to recover it. She sailed for France this month to go to her sister.

Pavenstedt once was head of the New York banking house of G. Amsinck & Co.

Baron von Sternberg was a close friend of Theodore Roosevelt, when he was President and was known to him by his first name, "Speck."

FARMERS INCREASE PRICE WHEN CONDENSERY SENDS MILK HERE

Farmers in the neighborhood of Highland, Ill., who supply milk to the condensery there of the Helvetia Milk Condensing Co., are understood to have organized last night and demanded that the company pay them $3.60 for 100 pounds for milk instead of $3.25, as at present. This action was taken after the company, according to Adolph Meyer, its secretary, yesterday had shipped 50,000 pounds of fresh milk to the St. Louis Dairy Co. It is said to have shipped 100,000 pounds to the St. Louis concern today.

This is said to be one of the "new sources" from which St. Louis milk distributers expected to get milk in the event the Southern Illinois Milk Producers' Association carried out its plan to quit shipping milk to St. Louis, unless its demand of $3.60 per 100 pounds is met by the distributers. The latter have offered to pay $3.55 and submit the matter to arbitration.

EIGHT WOMEN IN ONE FAMILY REGISTER IN THE FIRST WARD

The registration of eight women from a single family was reported from the Eighteenth precinct of the First Ward, where Mrs. Sophie Klasing of 1944 Adelaide avenue and her seven daughters qualified as voters.

Mrs. Klasing is the widow of August F. Klasing, grocer. One of the daughters, replying to inquiries, declined to give the names of the others, as she said they did not want any publicity, and if the names were published "they wouldn't vote."

INVESTIGATORS AGREE WALL STREET EXPLOSION WAS CAUSED BY BOMB; DEATH LIST 37

MAN SAID TO HAVE SENT WARNINGS OF DISASTER IS HELD

POSTCARDS MAILED FROM TORONTO

Letter Dropped Through Mail Slot Stated Great Catastrophe Would Occur About 2:30 O'Clock.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Sept. 17.—Edward Fischer, a former employe of the French High Commission in New York, was arrested by the police in Hamilton, Ontorio, today, at the request of the United States Department of Justice officials, after he is alleged to have sent two post cards to friends here from Toronto warning them not to be in Wall street at 3 o'clock Wednesday, the 15th. He will be brought to New York to testify before the September grand jury.

George Ketchledge, a broker in the financial district, last night made public a post card, dated Toronto, Canada, Sept. 14, which read:

"Get out of Wall street when the gong strikes at 3 o'clock Wednesday (the 15th).

"Good luck. ED."

This card, signed "Ed," was received, Ketchledge explained, from Ed Fisher, a friend, who, he said, was a lawyer, but had been unable to practice his profession because of attacks of paranoia.

The police late today obtained another warning postal signed "Ed" addressed to Sheppard Homans of Prosser & Homans, in the Equitable Building, postmarked Toronto and dated Sept. 13 at 11 p. m.

A letter giving warning of the explosion was dropped Wednesday morning through the mail slot of a door in one of the offices of the French High Commission at 65 Broadway. The police find an association, with the first warning in the fact that Fisher formerly was in the employ of the French High Commission. This letter, apparently written by a man formerly in the service of the commission, was torn into small pieces soon after it was read and dropped into a waste basket.

After the explosion these bits of paper were taken from the basket, pasted together and turned over to the police. The letter, which was addressed to Lieut. Arnaud, who is attached to the commission, began with the words: "Greetings." The writer said he thought he was rendering a service to the French commission by advising Maurice Casenave, Minister plenipotentiary, and his assistants, of the fact that a catastrophe would occur in Wall street about 2:30 o'clock. No date was mentioned.

The writer suggested that Lieut. Arnaud advise Minister Casenave to have the offices of the commission closed and unoccupied at 2 o'clock so that the lives of the office staff might be spared. The letter also mentioned "between 2 and 4 o'clock daylight time" as the probable hour for the catastrophe.

Mark O. Prentiss, chairman of the United States Clearing House of Foreign Credits, today turned over to the police a postcard which he said was delivered to him several weeks ago. The card read:

"Unless you put sterling, francs and marks down where they belong at once, every bank interested in foreign credit will be blown to pieces. I do my work right. We will make the job a new way."

The note was signed "American."

Prentiss said the card apparently was in a disguised handwriting.

The police late today made public the mysterious letter of warning alleged to have been sent to the French high commission by Fischer. Incoherency was evidenced in the verbatim copy furnished a newspaper. Dated "the Queens, Toronto," it bore in one corner the following statement: "My address may always be obtained at my New York home, 39 West Ninety-second street, Riverside 2688."

NEW YORK, Sept. 17.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

WITHIN 50 feet of the scene of the explosion is more than $900,000,000 in gold bullion and coin, the greatest amount of the metal in any one place on earth.

This great store of gold is being transferred from the Subtreasury vaults to the newer and larger vaults of the new assay office, which adjoins the Subtreasury to the eastward on the north side of Wall street. The transfer is being made by means of a wooden chute which spans the 20-foot alley between the two buildings, the gold bars, each worth $6500, being slid across in boxes on a traveling belt.

The fact this vast amount of gold was near, flashed into the minds of many persons—particularly attaches of the Subtreasury and assay office—at the moment of the explosion, and was dwelt upon later when the bomb theory was advanced.

FLYNN'S REPORT SAID TO POINT TO ANARCHIST BOMB

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 17.—Reports from William J. Flynn, chief of the Bureau of Investigation of the Department of Justice, received here today, point conclusively to the fact that the explosion in New York was caused by an anarchist bomb, it was announced today at the Justice Department.

Reports from Flynn over the telephone, officials of the department stated, clearly show that radical activities were responsible for the outrage. Details of Flynn's report, however, were not made public.

The appearance of nearby buildings indicates that the explosion in the New York financial district was like the discharge of a small war bomb, said a telegram received at the Bureau of Mines today from George S. Rice, chief mining engineer of the bureau, who was in New York on business when the explosion occurred.

Dr. Charles E. Munroe, consulting explosive engineer, who took a prominent part in the investigation of the explosion of an infernal machine in the Capitol Building here several years ago, has been ordered to New York by the bureau to assist other Government agents in investigating the explosion.

MACSWINEY GETS SOME SLEEP; HUNGER STRIKE IN 36TH DAY

Mayor of Cork Said to Have Passed a Better Night; Pain in Head Reported Gone.

LONDON, Sept. 17.—Lord Mayor Terence MacSwiney of Cork, who today began the thirty-sixth day of his hunger strike at Brixton prison, passed a somewhat better night and had a little sleep, said a bulletin issued at 10 o'clock this morning by the Irish Self-Determination League. The bulletin said the pains he has suffered in his limbs and back continue, but that he was not suffering from the pain in his head, from which he has frequently complained. It was declared a doctor had found him appreciably weaker, but that he was still conscious.

In his report to the Home Office, the physician at Brixton prison declared there was no change in the Lord Mayor's condition except that a gradual deterioration was noticeable daily.

MONTANA SHEEP RAISERS TO WEAVE THEIR WOOL OUTPUT

By the Associated Press.

HELENA, Mont., Sept. 17.—Montana wool growers, through their organization perfected at a meeting today, will deliver finished blankets and cloth for men's and women's clothing made from virgin wool from Montana, to the consumer, at a price which will eliminate the profits which now prevail between the grower and the ultimate consumer, it was announced.

Contract has already been agreed upon between the association and independent woolen mills, making possible the undertaking.

The Montana association will cooperate with the National Wool Growers' Association in the movement to deliver the growers' wool to the consumer in finished material, it was declared.

The Montana growers, through their association, have guaranteed a liberal and substantial financial support of the adopted plan.

HORSE AND WAGON USED TO HAUL EXPLOSIVE IS THE THEORY NOW ACCEPTED

"Absolutely No Doubt" It Was Infernal Machine, Declares Federal Chief Flynn; Doubt as to Kind of Explosive; Damage Runs Into Millions.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Sept. 17.—William J. Flynn, chief of the Bureau of Investigation, Department of Justice, declared this afternoon he was positive that a bomb had caused the explosion in Wall street yesterday which resulted in the death of 37 persons, the injury of about 200, and caused property damage running into millions.

Chief Flynn made his announcement shortly after Fire Commissioner Drennan had reported to Mayor Hylan his belief that a bomb was responsible for the disaster, and the police had begun to swing to the bomb theory as opposed to that of a collision between a powder wagon and an automobile.

"There is absolutely no doubt that it was a bomb," said Chief Flynn. "An important development in the last two hours has convinced us of this. The bomb was apparently placed by a person who was within four blocks of Wall and Broad streets when the explosion occurred."

Certain at last of the cause of the explosion, Federal agents and city police increased their search for the driver of a wagon drawn by one horse which was blown to pieces No trace of him has yet been found.

The theory of the investigators is that a time bomb was placed on the wagon and that the driver hurried from the scene just after arranging for the explosion to occur at noon.

The theory that the combustible which caused yesterday's explosion was trinitrotoluol has been discarded by investigators, according to an announcement by Chief of Detectives Coughlin today.

Picric Acid Also Discarded.

Picric acid also was discarded as a factor by Col. V. W. Dunn of the United States Commission on Explosives, who arrived here this morning to participate in the investigation. He said it was impossible, with the existing evidence to determine just what the explosive was.

Inspector Campbell of the Bureau of Mines expressed the opinion that 200 pounds of dynamite would have produced an effect similar to that of yesterday's explosion. He said that elevation of the dynamite to the height of the wagon bed would account for the absence of a crater in the street.

Chief Flynn said that it would not be wise to make public the facts which convinced him that the explosion was caused by a bomb. He added that he had wired to the Department of Justice in Washington a report embodying his conclusions as to the cause and the reasons for his deductions.

Trying to Identify Wagon.

At Police Headquarters the resources of the department were centered on the task of identifying the horse and wagon, the remains of which were found in front of the Subtreasury.

Under the direction of Police Commissioner Enright, Capt. Arthur Carey, chief of the homicide bureau, summoned hundreds of harness makers, blacksmiths, wagon manufacturers and livery stable proprietors in an effort to determine what type of wagon it was and who owned it.

Six expert wagon makers expressed the opinion at Police Headquarters that the "powder wagon" was a closed vehicle of old-time design. They said that fragments of the vehicle indicated it was so distinctly a relic of wagon making of former days that the task of establishing its identity should be easier than at first expected.

The Board of Estimate, meeting this morning, appropriated $10,000 for information leading to the arrest and conviction of persons implicated in the explosion. An additional $500 was appropriated for information leading to the establishment of the ownership of the horse and wagon.

Description of the Horse.

Assistant District Attorney Talley described the horse that drew the wrecked wagon as a strawberry roan less than 15 hands high. He appeared before the grand jury today to aid it in its investigation of the explosion.

Theoretical reconstruction of the demolished wagon by city detectives resulted in the opinion that the vehicle had been one of unusual breadth. Detective Chief Coughlin said he believed it was of a type used in transporting eggs in crates, its width accommodating five cases.

Talley said chemists are at work to ascertain the type of explosive used. He requested the police to obtain from all the hospitals a list of the wounded in order that he may have a complete statement from every witness.

Assistant District Attorney Joyce informed Talley that two wounded men treated at the volunteer hospital were reported to have said that the "bomb wagon," besides being painted red, as is required of all explosive conveyances, bore a red flag in the rear and large letters on the side reading "explosives." These men, whose names were withheld, are being sought by the police.

Metal Found on Roof.

More than 150 pounds of broken sash weights and other metal fragments have been collected by the fire department at the scene of the disaster and turnd over to the police, Commissioner Drennan said.

A piece of metal, presumably from a bomb, and an iron slug weighing about a pound were found by U. S. Grant, deputy assistant treasurer, on the roof of the Subtreasury Building this morning.

Fire Chief Kenlon and Chief Broppy of the Bureau of Combustibles, conferred at the City Hall this morning with Mayor Hylan. They presented reports on what they believed to be the cause of the explosion. The Mayor indicated he would make these public later. At police headquarters it was said the first task would be to assemble what are considered bomb fragments in an effort to reconstruct the bomb and determine whether it was made by skilled hands or by a novice.

The explosion, according to the investigators, "apparently occurred in a horse-drawn, covered wagon at a point almost opposite an entrance to the United States Assay Office."

The investigators found that the wagon had a red running gear and that there were no markings on the harness other than to show it was for one horse. Small pieces of window weights with which an infernal machine may have been loaded had been "fused by an intense heat," indicating they had been cut into slugs by a high-powered gas burner.

No Powder Delivered.

Referring to the theory that the explosion had been caused by collision of an automobile with a power wagon, Commissioner Drennan said that only two concerns are licensed to convey explosives through the streets of New York and that all of their wagons and motor trucks had been accounted for.

No blasting powder, dynamite or trinitrololuol was delivered by either concern to any of the four places in the downtown district where blasting is being done, the report stated.

Rigid inspection of the magazines and records of each place where blasting is being done in the downtown district, the report stated, showed that "No explosives have either been delivered or removed."

"Pieces of sheet metal resembling tin," the report said, "were found in the debris similar to metal lining such as is used in the construction of export cases of high explosives."

No sash weights such as were used in the bomb and fragments of which pitted the windows and walls of the J. P. Morgan & Co. institution and the United States Assay Building are missing, the report said, from any of the windows in the vicinity of the explosion. The type of sash weight is regarded as an important clew in unraveling the mystery.

A piece of red-hot steel-pipe, about two inches in diameter, splintered and fused at the ends and coated inside with a white substance, was picked up yesterday after the explosion, in the doorway of the Mutual Life Building, two blocks from the Subtreasury, by Frank S. Hedges, an official of a bonding house.

Scores Are Questioned.

Federal agents were inclined to the belief that if yesterday's affair was planned by anarchists, they were of a new school, at least in their destructive methods.

Scores of persons seeking exemption from classification as enemy aliens or desiring the vise of the department on the passports of friends in Europe who desire to emigrate to the United States were questioned at the bureau today as to whether they had any information possibly bearing upon the explosion.

Police Inspector William Lahey, directing detectives, said that in addition to seeking to reconstruct "the bomb" and establish ownership of the wrecked wagon, his force was examining sweepings collected by the Street Cleaning Department in the financial district. These were being thoroughly sifted in the search for evidence, he said.

The inspector said marks had been found on the shoes of the dead horse attached to the wagon and that he hoped soon to find the blacksmith who had shod the beast.

In addition to reported discovery of what are taken to be parts of clockwork in the wreckage, experts have expressed the opinion that trinitrotoluol or picric acid was used in the bomb, if there was one. These reports or theories based on them have sent detectives and Department of Justice men on 30 "leads" pointing to bomb plots and radical activities.

Views of Investigators.

William J. Burns, who said he had been engaged by the Morgan firm to make an investigation of the accident, stated that his personal investigation convinced him that a wagon containing a bomb or bombs was left in front of the Subtreasury building with a timing device so fixed as to cause it to explode precisely at noon. No trace of the driver of the wagon has been found, he said, and he added that in his opinion the man escaped a few moments before the explosion occurred.

Chief Medical Examiner Morris was one of those who declared that the explosive force was TNT.

It is Dr. Morris' belief that the disaster was caused by a bomb thrown from the back of a speeding automobile or dropped or hurled from a high cornice. He reported a section of smooth curved sheet iron and declared this to be a section of the jacket of a bomb.

Old Red Dray Theory.

John W. Muhtch of Astoria, N. Y., visited police headquarters and told of seeing a red wagon alone and unmanned where the crash occurred. Two other men and a boy told the police they saw a covered wagon, marked "Explosives," going south in lower Broadway about 15 minutes before the explosion.

Government agents, searching the debris after the explosion, said they found the wagon axle and steel tires, badly bent but intact. They said they bore out the theory that the metal slugs found imbedded in the sides of adjacent buildings and in the streets hundreds of feet away were not from the metal part of the wagon. Some of these slugs picked up soon after the explosion occurred were hot and smelled strongly of chemicals used in the manufacture of explosives, they said.

Fire Chief Kenlon and officers from the Bureau of Combustibles also expressed the belief that the explosion was caused by a bomb after examining fragments of metal found in the street in front of the Morgan offices. Dr. William F. Doyle, chief of the Bureau of Combustibles, pointed out that the small hole found in the street near the Morgan offices and the widely scattered scars on the facades of nearby buildings also indicated that the blast was caused by a bomb rather than by an explosion of a quantity of dynamite or other explosives.

Frank Francisco, one of the investigators of the Department of Justice, called attention to the fact that the explosion occurred just one day after the last members of the "Red Squad" of the department were disbanded. This squad had been active in running down bomb plots since early in the war.

Thirty detectives from the West Thirtieth Street Station were sent out last night to maintain a strict surveillance over the Morgan home, at Thirty-sixth and Thirty-seventh streets, on Madison avenue. They had orders to stop every person and automobile that passed which gave them the slightest reason for suspicion.

Special Guard in District; Repair Work Is Begun.

Work of repairing the shattered windows and twisted fixtures in the Stock Exchange, the offices of J. P. Morgan & Co., the Subtreasury and various nearby buildings began during the night and a close guard of police and soldiers from Governor's Island was kept throughout the district. Searchlights criss-crossed in the sky above the buildings, and no one was allowed on the streets.

Special corps of guards will be kept in the roped-off district for several days, it was announced. Entrance into that district will be by well established credentials only.

The various exchanges, which were closed soon after the explosion, announced that they would reopen today.

After checking up reports of lost securities as a result of the Wall street explosion, officials of the Stock Exchange said that several packages valued between $300,000 and $400,000 are missing. A large proportion of these securities, the officials said, are nonnegotiable. Estimates of property damage run as high as $2,500,000.

Troops Held in Readiness.

Troops were held in readiness on Governor's Island today and detachments of the Twenty-second Infantry were in barracks subject to instant call. All public buildings and the homes of wealthy and prominent men here are under special watch, and every available man is held in reserve or actively working in Federal, State and city investigation agencies.

Between 8 and 9 o'clock this morning police lines in the financial district were relaxed for admission of the thousands of office workers. During the same period emergency patrols were doubled and every doorway and alley was under close inspection. Downtown subway stations were kept cleared by a large force of police.

During the early hours public and private agencies cleaned up Wall street, sweeping up tons of debris and washing down blood-stained sidewalks and buildings. Repairmen in force started work.

The financial centers of America's big cities from coast to coast are like armed camps today, with police and private sentries posted to guard against repetition of the mysterious explosion that rocked Wall street. From Washington, Chicago, Philadelphia, Boston, Detroit, Baltimore, as far south as the Gulf of Mexico, and west of the Golden Gate, authorities announced heavy patrols of plain clothes men and police reserves in their big business districts, and Federal agents worked with State and city officials to run down reports of widespread extremist plots.

PATRIOTIC RALLY HELD NEAR SITE OF EXPLOSION

Crowds Viewing Wreckage in Wall Street Hear Speeches on Constitution Day.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Sept. 17.—With an audience that included thousands of sightseers taking advantage of their luncheon hour to view the scene of yesterday's bomb disaster, exercises were held on the steps of the United States Subtreasury today commemorating the adoption of the American Constitution on its 123d anniversary.

At the hour when the exercises were due to begin, Wall street and adjacent arteries of the financial district were packed to capacity, every square foot of space in streets and sidewalks apparently being filled with people examining the effects of the explosion. A narrow lane was cleared with difficulty by the police and through it a procession, headed by fife and drum, marched to revive the spirit of 1776.

A stone's throw from the spot which, 24 hours before, had witnessed scenes of the wildest confusion and terror, patriotic speeches were delivered from a rostrum on the site where George Washington took the oath as first President of the United States.

The only reference to yesterday's tragedy was made by Brigadier-General William J. Nicholson, who commanded the Seventh Division in France.

Declaring that any man who would participate in such a crime has no right in any community, and should be killed on sight "like a snake," he asked every man within hearing to take an oath to do everything in his power to bring the culprits to justice should it be determined that the explosion was not the result of an accident.

At intervals during the morning crowds that thronged the lower tip of Manhattan Island ran terror-stricken for cover when loud reports as of an explosion occurred. They were reassured, however, when the word was passed about that the noise was caused by blasting on the site of a new building near the Subtreasury.

SCENES IN MORGAN OFFICES AFTER THE BLAST DESCRIBED

Glass Tops and Sides Fell in, Injuring Dozens of Employes.

By Leased Wire From the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Sept. 17.—What happened inside the offices of J. P. Morgan & Co. when the explosion occurred was described for the Post-Dispatch by several persons who were within the big building.

Thomas W. Joyce, a Morgan employe for 30 years, and father of William Joyce, the young clerk who was killed, told his story through a friend, the family minister, who visited him at his home in Brooklyn last evening. Joyce is head of the gold shipment department of the Morgan concern. He said:

"I was in my office, which is partitioned off with glass and has a heavy glass ceiling, just about noon, talking to a Mr. Wilson, one of our staff, when I heard an awful noise. There was a roar, the whole building seemed to rock, and the glass sides and top of my office fell in upon me as I dropped to the floor unconscious. What became of my companion I do not know.

Offices Filled With Smoke.

"When I came to myself again the whole first floor seemed to be filled with smoke and dust and was strewn deeply with glass, which had come from the windows and partitions and the heavy dome which depends from the roof. All the offices were demolished.

"I could see dozens of our employes sitting or lying about, all wounded, and doctors in white coats moving from one to another of them, dressing and bandaging their hurts. I realized that I was badly hurt myself, for there was a big gash in my head and one of my hands was cut and bleeding profusely. But it seemed to me that some of the others needed the doctors worse than I did, so I did not bother them.

"I stayed where I was until I could bear the pain no more, and then I went into the street and walked down to the Broad Street Hospital for treatment.

"As soon as I could pass through the crowd I made my way back to the Morgan building, and there some of my friends broke the news to me that my boy, Will, who was 24, had been struck in the head by debris and was dead. I had to identify the poor lad's body, and then I went home in a taxicab and broke the news to his mother."

Joyce was in bed last night and under the care of a physician, suffering both physically and mentally from the results of the disaster.

Hurt by Falling Glass.

Walter Dickinson of the letter of credit department of J. P. Morgan & Co. was seen in St. Vincent's Hospital, where he was taken with a possible fracture of the skull. He said:

"I was sitting at my desk right under the glass dome when I heard an explosion just like the sound of a gatling gun. Then a shower of glass from the dome came down on my head. I put up my hands to protect my head and bent over so it wouldn't get in my eyes. A mass of debris fell on me and knocked me to the floor. Others about me were hurt, too. There was no warning."

ARTISTS BUSY ON FRESCO AND MURAL WORK AT STATE CAPITOL

Large Part of Interior Decoration Is Expected to Be Completed by Next January.

By the Associated Press.

JEFFERSON CITY, Sept. 17.—With a view of having completed a large part of the interior decoration of the Missouri State Capitol building by next January, when the State Legislature reconvenes, craftsmen and artists are busy with the fresco work and mural decorations.

In the two halls intended for museums, especially, the work is being pushed. One museum will be devoted to Missouri industry, while the other will be a historical museum. War and historical paintings depicting the activities of the State of Missouri will be placed in the two halls.

Artists and the pictures they are working on for the capitol include Richard E. Miller, St. Louis, a scene from the life of Thomas H. Benton and a scene from the career of Lewis and Clark; O. E. Berninghaus, St. Louis, a scene from the early history of St. Louis and a scene from the early history of Howard County; Fred Carpenter, St. Louis, scene from the Mexican War and a scene from the Spanish-American War; N. C. Wyeth, Pennsylvania, two scenes from the Civil War; Adolphe Blondheim, Massachusetts, Missouri soldiers in the last war; Commander Henry Reuterdahl, work of the navy during the last war.

TWO CHICAGO NEWSPAPERS SUED BY CITY FOR $10,000,000

They Are Alleged by Mayor to Have Made Statements That Injured City Financially.

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Sept. 17.—Two suits for $10,000,000 were filed today on orders of Mayor William Hale Thompson against the Chicago Tribune and the Chicago Daily News, respectively. The suits, according to Corporation Counsel Ettleson, allege that charges made by these newspapers in the primary campaign that ended Wednesday have injured Chicago financially.

The charges alleged false statements to the effect that the city is bankrupt and its credit exhausted. They declared these statements injured bonds issued by the city, caused it to pay higher prices for supplies and materials, and injured the morale of the city employes.

Explosion Survivors Tell of Being Blown From Feet and Showered With Bricks

By Leased Wire From the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Sept. 17.—Wounded in four different places and still half dazed from his experience, George Lacina, an employe of the Equitable Life Assurance Society, made his way to the New York World office shortly after the explosion and there told a stirring story of what he had gone through.

"I was going through New street just off Wall, hurrying along to keep an appointment with a friend at noon, and it was just that time by my watch, when there came a terrible blast of air and an awful racket and I found myself being hurled down the basement steps of Fred Eberlin's restaurant at 9 New street," he said.

"My face struck against one of the steps and my left eye and cheek were cut. I was half blinded by blood. On the way down the steps my coat lapel was caught by a spike on the railing and torn through. This cut my shoulder, too. I had a $5 bill in my hand that I was going to give to my friend in payment of a little debt. Somehow I managed to cling to this.

"I picked myself up somehow and said to a fellow who was also at the bottom of the steps: 'What the hell has hit New York?'

"Somebody said: 'It's around in Wall street.' So I ran around there to see what I could do. Glass and bricks were showering down in all directions. Yet it was like a Sunday morning in some ways, for there wasn't a soul to be seen on the sidewalks, either of Wall or Broad streets. That is, there was no one standing or walking. There were some terrible-looking figures lying about. In front of the Subtreasury was a young girl lying on the pavement, her head hanging over the curb. She was a good-looking, well-dressed girl, with bobbed hair. She had a terrible wound extending from just below her right ear to the center of her neck in front. She was calling for help.

Showers of Bricks and Glass.

"I picked her up and carried her down Wall street and into the hallway of an office building below the new Assay Office. On the way there bricks and glass were still showering down. One brick struck me and cut my left shoulder where it had been hurt before by the spike on Eberlin's basement stairs. Another brick hit the girl I was carrying in my arms.

"As some men took this girl from me and placed her in the corridor of the office building, I went out on the street again. There was a policeman standing across from Morgan's holding a girl over his arm and I asked him: 'What struck us?' He pointed across the street and said: 'There it is—that wagon and automobile.'

"There was some splintered woodwork from the frame of a wagon and a great big iron rim from a wheel had rolled over against the curb of Morgan's sidewalk. The automobile was blazing. The policeman and I agreed that it looked as if the automobile had hit a wagon full of dynamite or TNT, or something like that.

"There was a horse, almost cut in half, lying dead in the middle of the street.

"On the steps of the Subtreasury building there was an old man with a little, gray goatee. He was writhing and twisting about and saying: 'What has happened? What has happened?' He seemed to be pretty badly hurt, so another fellow and I carried him down the street and into an office building corridor.

"Every once in a while, even then, a brick or a piece of glass would fall, and it was my luck to get another brick on the left wrist after I had finished the job with the old gentleman. After the police reserves and ambulances started to arrive there was not any more I could do, so I went and found my friend, paid my debt and then went up to the Equitable offices, where I work, and had a doctor fix me up.

"Two odd little things happened to me—my coat buttons were all blown off and my watch was thrown 10 minutes slow."

The owner of one of the automobiles which stood in front of the Morgan offices, on the Wall street side, was John W. Mutch of Astoria, president of the New York Chimney Repair Co. Mutch was closer to the explosion than any other person discovered later by reporters. He said:

"I had an appointment at 20 Broad street, and just about noon stopped my car at the curb alongside the Wall street end of the Morgan offices, about 20 feet east of Broad.

"I noticed a wagon across the street. It was yellowish in color and was drawn by a single horse. I stepped out of the car and walked toward Broad street, but I had not quite reached there when there was a great roar, and that is the last I knew for a time. I was knocked unconscious to the sidewalk. When I came to myself, men and women were running over me, crying and shouting hysterically. I ran along with them, toward Broadway. When I got there I could go no further, for I was a mass of bruises. I must have been kicked and stepped on hundreds of times by people running.

"It was well after 3 o'clock before I could persuade a policeman that I had left my car standing in front of Morgan's and that I had a right to go to it. I found the machine badly shattered and burned."

The owner of another automobile which was left nearby was Dunham S. Belden, a druggist of East Orange, N. J. He said:

"I had an appointment with Mr. Baker of Baker & Burns, certified accountants, at 52 Wall street, and parked my machine just outside of that building. I had been inside about five minutes when the most terrific explosion I ever heard startled me and I ran out to find the street filled with smoke and dust and shattered glass, and people lying all about on the sidewalks. Men and women were running in all directions. When I looked for my machine I could not find it. I do not know whether it was blown up or taken away by the police."

James Butts of Yonkers, who works for Bull & Eldridge, a bond house at 20 Broad street, when seen at St. Vincent's hospital, said: "I was walking next door to the exchange when I saw the flash. I ran into the exchange, with glass showering down upon my head and body. The next thing I knew I was in the Broad street hospital and later here in St. Vincent's, where I was brought in a friend's car. I don't know what happened."

William Foley of 30 Morris place, also a patient at St. Vincent's said:

"I was going to lunch when all of a sudden everything went black. There were terrible sheets of flame. Two companions were blown away from me. As soon as I came to I saw a touring car on fire, its side burning. Showers of glass and rocks came down and people were flattened out everywhere on the street."

Was Blown Into Building.

Joseph Walters, 990 Sixth avenue, in St. Vincent's hospital with a broken leg, said:

"I was standing outside 37 Wall street and was blown into that building. There was a flash right in front of me. It came sharp at 12 o'clock. There were pieces of scalps —and women with their clothes blown off them. You couldn't recognize a person, they were so black."

Elwood M. Louer of Brooklyn, export manager for the Hoffman-Corr Manufacturing Co., a former newspaper man and a keen observer, gave this description:

"I was at the southeast corner of Wall and William streets, walking east, when the terrible roar caused me to turn. I saw a sheet of flame that seemed to envelope the whole width of Wall street and seemed to reach as high as the tenth story of the tall buildings.

"Then came a concussion, an air blast that nearly took me off my feet and actually did knock down a number of persons near me. There was a shower of glass even that far away. One man close to me put his hands up to protect his face and all his fingers were deeply gashed by a glass fragment.

"I ran west on Wall street with the idea of doing what I could to help the injured. With some others I went first to the burning automobile, which was a touring car that had been blown into the air and now rested on its side. I looked carefully at this and found no hole in the bottom, which there would have been, of course, had the backing contained a bomb or other explosive.

Three Dead Men on Sidewalk.

"On the sidewalk in front of Morgan's were three dead men. One had a hole in his cheek into which you could have put your fist. Another was a heavily built man in a shepherd's plaid suit and his left hand in his trousers pocket, as though he had been reaching for change or matches or something when he was struck. The third dead man was terribly mangled. There was a man there, too, who seemed to be dying. His nose was blown half off, and so was his upper lip. He was trying to speak but couldn't. I helped to make him as comfortable as possible. These victims all were fully clad.

"Across the street in front of 36 Wall street were two dead men, awfully smashed up and another who was just dying when I got to him. These men had every stitch of their clothing blown or burned from their bodies.

"Two others in front of the assay office were dead, too, with their clothing all gone. Altogether there were eight dead men on that north side of Wall street, and I don't know how many badly injured.

"In front of the haberdashery on that side was a man with both legs almost entirely severed and his shoes and stockings torn off. I saw two girls being carried out of 36 Wall street, both with their waists burned away and their flesh blackened. One was being carried in a chair and the other in the arms of some men. The awnings of this building were ablaze and fire apparently had penetrated to the interior."

SWITCHMAN KILLED AT WORK

Thomas Yingling, 19 years old, of 6200 Garfield avenue, a Terminal switchman, was killed at 2:40 a. m. today when on duty in the Terminal yards at Eighth and Poplar streets, near the mouth of the tunnel.

He was engaged in "kicking off" cars, and was leaning over the side of a car to make an uncoupling when he was struck by a car on an adjoining track and knocked from the train. He was taken to St. Mary's Infirmary, and was dead on arrival there. He was a son of William Yingling of Belleview, Mo., and carried a membership card in the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen.

MICHAEL J. TIMOTHY, 46, A STEAMfitter, of 2410 Elliott avenue, was killed at noon yesterday while working at the United Drug Co. plant on King's Highway and Natural Bridge avenue, when he accidently touched an electric switch and received the full force of the current. He was working for a construction company at the time.

Messenger, Injured, Proceeds With Parcel of $18,000 in Bonds

NEW YORK, Sept. 17.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NICK JOHNS, 23 years old, a messenger for Parish & Co. of 115 Broadway, was about to deliver $18,000 in securities to the National City Bank when knocked to the street by the Wall street explosion. Dazed and lacerated, with the inviting broad doors of a bank before him, he nevertheless struggled along Wall street toward the scene of disaster, because in his half-conscious mind there groped only one thought, that the securities belonged to his firm and that the firm was on Broadway. But somebody gathered him into an ambulance and hastened him to a hospital.

MAN SAID TO HAVE SENT WARNINGS OF DISASTER IS HELD

lice here by his brother-in-law, Robert Pope, of New York, it was stated. The two men have been at a hotel here for the last two days.

The police say Pope informed them that three weeks ago the prisoner predicted the New York catastrophe and sent warnings to Wall street friends. Pope says his relative has been in a peculiar mental condition for some time, and that he believes the information as to the approaching disaster was "received by telepathy."

A lunacy commission adjudged Fischer a "fit subject for the asylum," and he will be taken there this afternoon, it was announced.

Officers who took the prisoner in charge say he talked queerly. He claimed that he had once acted as sparring partner to Jack Dempsey, the heavyweight boxing champion.

Pope told newspaper men this afternoon that Fischer said three weeks ago that he had a premonition that Wall street would be blown up, but he naturally paid no attention to him.

He declared that Fischer moved in no circle in which he could come in contact with persons who could give him any information of the impending explosion.

Pope insisted that Fischer had been in Canada during the last two weeks.

Fischer talked freely to Magistrate Jelfs in the detention room. He admitted sending the postcard to his "chief in the French mission," New York, and also of sending word of an impending disaster to a friend in a Wall street brokerage office. Fischer was said to have been a well-known tennis player.

Asked as to where he received his information as to the bombing, he stated that "it came from the air."

At the time he sent this word, he said he had a severe pain in his head. He complained of having a similar pain today and that he believed "something terrible was happening somewhere now."

He stated that he "believed in a religion of love," but that he "hated the Morgans."

Among many papers found on the prisoner was a postcard addressed in Toronto, dated Sept. 13, to a man in New York whose name is being withheld. It stated that he was in financial straits and asked that money be remitted promptly. In one corner of the card was the following warning: "Have Bob keep away from Wall street this Wednesday afternoon."

Fischer Being Examined by Physicians for Sanity.

By the Associated Press.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Sept. 17.—A man who admits he is Edward Fisher, and that he recently was in Toronto, is detained at police headquarters at Hamilton, Ont., according to a telephone message from that city received here today. A police surgeon is examining him to determine whether he is insane. Relatives in Hamilton are said to have informed the police of his whereabouts. He has not been questioned about a postcard warning a broker's clerk in New York to get out of Wall street on Sept. 15.

Man Says Stranger on Train Warned Him to Keep Out of Wall Street.

By the Associated Press.

NUTLEY, N. J., Sept. 17.—Warning to keep out of Wall street "until after Sept. 16" was received here Sept. 9 by Joseph T. O'Neill, 24-year-old son of a bank-note paper manufacturer, he declared here today.

O'Neill said he was on a tube train from Newark to Jersey City and got into conversation with a man next to him. The stranger said he was a secret service agent attached to the French High Commission, and was on his way to Buffalo, where some anarchists were under arrest.

After he learned that O'Neill was employed in a lower Broadway office he warned him to keep away from the Wall street district, O'Neill said. The man said a close watch was being kept of known anarchists, but the plot might develope successfully in spite of precautions.

O'Neill said the stranger was about 42 years old, with ruddy complexion, and what seemed to him an unusual amount of gray hair for his age. He was about 6 feet tall and clean-shaven.

O'Neill said he rode with him to Cortlandt street ferry and during the latter part of the trip the man said he believed he would go to Port Jervis instead of to Buffalo, also on an anarchist hunt.

Joseph O'Neill stated this morning that he was in communication with the French High Commission, and was told the description of the stranger coincided with that of Edward Fischer, a "former employe of the commission."

New Yorker, Left Toronto Hotel Suddenly After Mailing Postcard.

By the Associated Press.

TORONTO, Sept. 17.—Edward Fischer, described as a member of an old New York family, who was staying at a hotel here early this week, departed suddenly after he is alleged to have mailed a postal to George W. Ketchledge, an employe of a New York brokerage firm, warning him to "get out of Wall street as soon as the gong strikes at 3 o'clock Wednesday, the 15th." His whereabouts is unknown here.

YOUTH 'SATISFIED' HIS BULLET KILLED WOMAN ON BRIDGE

18-Year-Old Boy, Married, Tells Police of Shooting at Birds Near Where Mrs. Julia Bergin Was Found.

James H. Middleton, 18 years old, married, of 8616 Jennings road, St. Louis County, in a written statement to the police today, said he "felt satisfied" that a bullet from a cat rifle in his hands killed Mrs. Julia Bergin, 49 years old, a widow, of 4550 Evans avenue, about 10:30 a. m. Sept. 9.

Mrs. Bergin was shot and killed with a .22 caliber bullet on a bridge on Park Lane near Tracy road. Middleton said he was standing about 75 feet from the bridge when he fired here for the last two days.

The police say Pope informed them that three weeks ago the prisoner predicted the New York catastrophe and sent warnings to Wall street friends. Pope says his relative has been in a peculiar mental condition for some time, and that he believes the information as to the approaching disaster was "received by telepathy."

A lunacy commission adjudged Fischer a "fit subject for the asylum," and he will be taken there this afternoon, it was announced.

Officers who took the prisoner in charge say he talked queerly. He claimed that he had once acted as sparring partner to Jack Dempsey, the heavyweight boxing champion.

Pope told newspaper men this afternoon that Fischer said three weeks ago that he had a premonition that Wall street would be blown up, but he naturally paid no attention to him.

He declared that Fischer moved in no circle in which he could come in contact with persons who could give him any information of the impending explosion.

Pope insisted that Fischer had been in Canada during the last two weeks.

Fischer talked freely to Magistrate Jelfs in the detention room. He admitted sending the postcard to his "chief in the French mission," New York, and also of sending word of an impending disaster to a friend in a Wall street brokerage office. Fischer was said to have been a well-known tennis player.

Asked as to where he received his information as to the bombing, he stated that "it came from the air."

At the time he sent this word, he said he had a severe pain in his head. He complained of having a similar pain today and that he believed "something terrible was happening somewhere now."

He stated that he "believed in a religion of love," but that he "hated the Morgans."

Among many papers found on the prisoner was a postcard addressed in Toronto, dated Sept. 13, to a man in New York whose name is being withheld. It stated that he was in financial straits and asked that money be remitted promptly. In one corner of the card was the following warning: "Have Bob keep away from Wall street this Wednesday afternoon."

Fischer Being Examined by Physicians for Sanity.

By the Associated Press.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Sept. 17.—A man who admits he is Edward Fisher, and that he recently was in Toronto, is detained at police headquarters at Hamilton, Ont., according to a telephone message from that city received here today. A police surgeon is examining him to determine whether he is insane. Relatives in Hamilton are said to have informed the police of his whereabouts. He has not been questioned about a postcard warning a broker's clerk in New York to get out of Wall street on Sept. 15.

Man Says Stranger on Train Warned Him to Keep Out of Wall Street.

By the Associated Press.

NUTLEY, N. J., Sept. 17.—Warning to keep out of Wall street "until after Sept. 16" was received here Sept. 9 by Joseph T. O'Neill, 24-year-old son of a bank-note paper manufacturer, he declared here today.

O'Neill said he was on a tube train from Newark to Jersey City and got into conversation with a man next to him. The stranger said he was a secret service agent attached to the French High Commission, and was on his way to Buffalo, where some anarchists were under arrest.

After he learned that O'Neill was employed in a lower Broadway office he warned him to keep away from the Wall street district, O'Neill said. The man said a close watch was being kept of known anarchists, but the plot might develope successfully in spite of precautions.

O'Neill said the stranger was about 42 years old, with ruddy complexion, and what seemed to him an unusual amount of gray hair for his age. He was about 6 feet tall and clean-shaven.

O'Neill said he rode with him to Cortlandt street ferry and during the latter part of the trip the man said he believed he would go to Port Jervis instead of to Buffalo, also on an anarchist hunt.

Joseph O'Neill stated this morning that he was in communication with the French High Commission, and was told the description of the stranger coincided with that of Edward Fischer, a "former employe of the commission."

JACK WILLIAMS ARRESTED; "NEVER KNEW" M'CURDY

ILLINOIS SHERIFF PERPLEXED BY CASE

McCurdy Disappeared Last March and When Found Told Story of Being Kidnaped.

The search for the mysterious "Jack Williams," charged by a Litchfield, Ill., Coroner's jury with having shot Robert McCurdy, 18 years old, of 3445 Virginia avenue, St. Louis, who died in Litchfield, Wednesday, caused the arrest of Jack H. Williams, 19, in East St. Louis today.

Williams, who lives at 506 Missouri avenue, and who is an amateur boxer and former member of the navy, returned to East St. Louis within the last few days, after several weeks' absence, but says he did not know young McCurdy, and that he has not been in the vicinity of Bunker Hill or Dorchester, Ill. It was near the latter town, in Macoupin County, that McCurdy was shot Sunday night.

The Williams held in East St. Louis says he was in North Dakota during the summer, and that he and Stephen Knapp, 22, returned to East St. Louis, Sept. 9. Knapp, who was also held by the police, supported this story. The East St. Louis police have no definite evidence against Williams, but said he would be held for the Sheriff of Macoupin County.

Case Perplexes Sheriff.

Sheriff Morris of Macoupin County said to a Post-Dispatch reporter, at Carlinville today, that he was "perplexed" by the lack of definite information as to the supposed "Jack Williams." If the right "Jack Williams" should be caught, it is not known how he could be identified, as no one either in St. Louis or in Macoupin County is known to have seen him.

The Sheriff believes there was a "Jack Williams," who, as charged by the Coroner's jury in its verdict, shot young McCurdy. The story told by McCurdy, before the shooting, was that attempts had been made, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday nights of last week, to rob the farm home of his great-aunt, Miss Melissa McCurdy, where he was staying, and that he, young McCurdy, had fired at the marauders, killing one and possibly two of them. He said he saw men removing a body from a strawstack Friday, and that "Jack Williams," the only one of the men whom he knew, fired at him, the bullet entering his shirt and piercing his pocket book.

He said he was called to Dorchester Sunday by a mysterious telephone message, and that on the return "Jack Williams" shot him from an automobile, in which there were three others. He said "Jack Williams" had been his companion in a bicycle tour from St. Louis to Carlinville, and that he had told Williams that his great-aunt kept a large sum of money in her home. An investigation of the youth's earlier story, made last Saturday by the Sheriff, had no substantial result.

Believes Youth Shot Self.

Deputy Sheriff Hueneger, who worked with the Sheriff in Saturday's investigation, has announced his belief that young McCurdy shot himself. He believes the youth first, to give support to his story, fired the bullet which tore his shirt and pierced his pocketbook Friday; and that Sunday night he attempted to repeat this, possibly intending to make a glancing flesh wound which would give a further air of credibility to his narrative. In this second attempt, Hueneger believes, the youth unintentionally inflicted a fatal wound. Hueneger believes the youth's khaki belt, which the bullet entered first, may have deflected it from the intended course. The bullet pierced young McCurdy's abdomen, ranging downward and leaving the body at the right of the spine.

Young McCurdy had a 32-caliber revolver, which he was carrying Sunday night. The surgeon who operated on him at Litchfield, Dr. C. H. Zoller, testified at the inquest that the wound seemed to have been inflicted by a bullet of more than 32-caliber, probably a 38 or more. Deputy Sheriff Hueneger yesterday, in the presence of the Post-Dispatch reporter, tested the hole in the belt with a 32-caliber cartridge, and concluded that, as the cartridge appeared to fit the hole tightly, the bullet which made the wound was no larger. He also pointed out powder burns which he believed showed that the shot was at very close range. He said the shirt, pierced by a bullet Friday, showed a similar burn.

No Bone Struck by Bullet.

Dr. T. L. Carriere, autopsy physician of the St. Louis Coroner's office, who has examined many bodies after death, from gunshot wounds, said yesterday that bullets, if they encounter the larger bones of the body, may change their shape so as to make it difficult to determine the caliber. The testimony as to young McCurdy's wound indicated that no bone was struck.

A letter signed "Helen," written by a St. Louis girl acquaintance of young McCurdy, and addressed to him at Dorchester, was found among the youth's effects. It contained a request to "tell Jack I said hello." The writer, Miss Helen Holste of 3934 South Compton avenue, said to a Post-Dispatch reporter last evening, through her sister, that she did not know young McCurdy's companion, and sent the "hello" message merely because McCurdy had written about him. She said McCurdy had not given her any definite information as to "Jack."

Father Repeats Kidnaping Story.

The boy's father, Alex McCurdy, an engineer for the Laclede Gas Light Co., told a Post-Dispatch reporter last evening of the boy's story of being kidnaped last March, and of the circumstances of his most recent departure from home.

He said Robert, who was the third of four sons, was an exceptionally diligent and thorough student, and a winner of honors in debating in Cleveland High School. He was in the senior class which would complete its course at Cleveland next January.

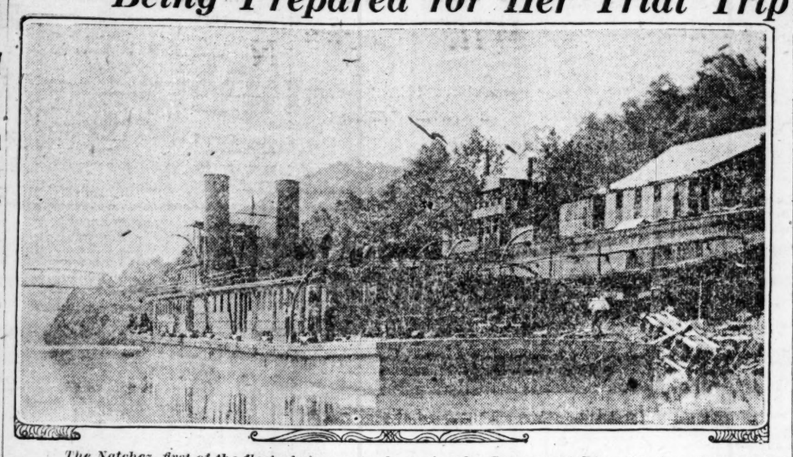

The father said that ill feeling resulted from a debate between Cleveland and McKinley High Schools, in which Robert was one of the winners. He said Robert related that he was carried away in an automobile, taken across the river, and that he took refuge in a boxcar, in which he was carried to Litchfield, and went thence to his relatives' home at Bunker Hill. The past summer, the boy worked with his father. He left home Aug. 4, leaving a note to his mother, and a news item appeared in a local paper saying that he and "Jack O'Connor, lately of Kansas City, had started out for a 10,000-mile bicycle tour. The father asked the authorities of Illinois counties to stop the youths, and a few days later he learned that Robert was at Bunker Hill.

Young McCurdy was a member of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, an organization of clerks and industrial employes. He had recently told friends that he expected to go on a speaking tour in behalf of the organization.

Kidnaping Not Investigated.

At Cleveland High School it was learned that young McCurdy was regarded as a brilliant student and an exceptional public speaker, but that in the past school year he appeared to have permitted outside activities to interfere with his school work. The story of his kidnaping last March was told in the school after his return, but no investigation of the story was made by the teachers, for the reason that they did not attach sufficient weight to it.

First of New Mississippi Towboats Being Prepared for Her Trial Trip

The Natchez, first of the fleet of six new towboats for the Government River Service, photographed when she was being prepared for her trial trip in the Great Kanawha River at Charleston, W. Va.

The Natchez, "Greyhound of the Mississippi," Will Be Delivered Here About Nov. 1 and Will Bring New Era of River Transportation.

The first of the fleet of six towboat with which the United States Government expects to complete its proof that freight can move more cheaply by river than rail and thus renew the glories of the Mississippi, will be delivered in St. Louis about Nov. 1.

She now is in the waters of the Great Kanawha River at Charleston, W. Va., being prepared for her trial trip, which will be made in time to deliver the boat to the Government River Service about Oct. 15. The trip down the Great Kanawha to the Ohio, thence to the Mississippi and up to St. Louis is expected to consume two weeks.

The new boat is the Natchez, namesake of the packet which in 1871 made a stern chase of the Robert E. Lee from New Orleans to St. Louis, a race still exalted when great matchings are recounted.

Herald of New River Days.

But eyes accustomed to the Mississippi in the days when a steamboat was not a rare sight will pop at this strange new craft as did the eyes of Mark Twain's darkey in Huckleberry Finn as he raised them fearfully over the bluff to gaze upon the fire-snorting demon of packet days. She is the herald of new days in transportation, neither side wheels, nor stern, nor spouting stacks, nor gingerbread and spotless white cabins. Not the steamboat of romance, but the little giant of commerce—a squat, stub-nosed craft of steel from her hull to her pilot house, 1800 horse-power crouching within her, leaping by that new energy—oil.

No churning wake, for in the metamorphosis of progress, she has lost paddles. Her propulsion is by twin screws concealed within a recess in her hull called a tunnel. The screws are the type of the twin screws of the great ocean liner, and she goes into her place as the "new greyhound of the Mississippi." Speed is hers, and power, too—a power which Brigadier-General Frank T. Hines, in an interview in a recent issue of the Sunday Post-Dispatch, estimated as capable of pushing 12,000 tons, or approximately 600 freight carloads of merchandise in the six barges which can nestle about her.

Cost More Than $500,000.

Her cost has exceeded $500,000. Her length is 200 feet, her beam 40, and her draught 7 feet. Though she will require a foot more water than she was designed to take, operation so far by the Government has demonstrated the existence of a minimum 7-foot channel at most seasons between St Louis and Cairo, after which there is water a-plenty.

Three others of her kind likely will be delivered to the Government River Service before Jan. 1, the remaining two following at some indefinite date next year.

The Natchez will be put immediately into service. The capacity to carry and the reliability of service of the barge line as now operated, has been handicapped greatly by the lack of anything but antiquated craft for use as towboats.

Waterways Bodies to Co-operate in Resumption of River Traffic.

Co-operation between the various organizations interested in the resumption of river traffic is now assured and definite plans are to be formulated by these bodies immediately for presentation at the next session of Congress, urging immediate legislation to carry to early completion the improvement and utilization of the waterways of the Mississippi Valley, according to J. B. Morrow, managing director of the Mississippi Valley Association, who returned to St. Louis last night following a conference of waterway bodies in Cincinnati Wednesday.

"The necessity for combined forces to promote waterway development was never so apparent as it is now," said Morrow. "With transportation congestion becoming more acute and the uncertainty of any immediate relief through additional railroad equipment, it appears that the only solution to the problem of adequate transportation facilities is in the maximum development of the rivers.

"The toughest obstacle to be overcome by river organizations to bring about the successful use of the waterways is the lack of adequate legislation that will not only be sufficient for the immediate completion of all approved river projects and assurance of their continued maintenance, but also to provide adequate appropriations to insure the successful operation of inland river trunk lines as a means of transportation for all time to come.

"The forces of the waterway organizations are being combined into one forceful medium that will be sufficient in strength to secure this legislation."

RED FLAGS HOISTED ON SEMINARY TRACT IN ITALY

Special Cable to the Post-Dispatch.

PARIS, Sept. 17.—Dispatches from Rome tell of the seizure by members of a co-operative society in Pietralata of the grounds belonging to a religious seminary in that town. Former soldiers assisted the co-operatists in invasion of property, it is reported, and red flags were hoisted at several points, better to mark possession.

A dispatch from Palermo says the peasants of Corleone occupied six landed estates in and around Saladino in the name of the Socialist section of the War Veterans' League, afterward proceeding to divide the lands into lots in the presence of a Socialist surveyor. Throughout Montferrato, according to reports received in Genoa, profound impression was caused by a fatal encounter between three brothers, Scarzi, a landed proprietor, and Red Guards, who killed one brother and wounded the remaining two after they tried to prevent farmers and farm workers of the neighborhood from gathering the grape crop on the Scarzi property.

Communist agitation for the seizure of property by peasants is gaining intensity throughout the vineyard regions there, it is reported. In Northern Italian centers the belief is prevalent that the extreme Socialists are preparing for the revolutionary coup.

VETERAN TAKES OATH OF OFFICE

Fred A. Renick, stock and bond salesman, who went through the late war with the French Army and who recently was appointed Democratic member of the Efficiency Board by Mayor Kiel, took the oath of office for that position yesterday and will sit hereafter at meetings of the board.

He will continue in his position as bond salesman, as the board meets for short periods only once or twice a week.

Renick lost an arm and the hearing of one ear through injuries received when driving an ambulance in the 359th Division of the French Army during the drive on the Somme on April 4, 1918. He twice had previously been commended for bravery in taking his ambulance up under fire while wounded were being evacuated, and received the Croix de Guerre, the Distinguished Service Cross and the Medaille Militaire.

LEAD OF 98 FOR OGLESBY IN VOTE IN MADISON COUNTY

Madison County showed some surprising figures in the election results tabulated at Edwardsville. William B. McKinley polled 5803 votes to 2439 for Frank L. Smith, the Thompson candidate, while Len Small, Thompson candidate for Governor, obtained 4107 to 4205 for Oglesby, supported by the Lowden forces.

Lewis L. Emmerson, for Secretary of State, got a lead of 3000 over William H. Reid, the Chicago candidate. For Attorney-General, Edward J. Brundage has 4547 to 3279 for Richard J. Barr.

Norman G. Flagg and Christ H. Rethmeier, Republicans, and Ferdinand A. Garesche, Democrat, were nominated for the Legislature, with the second Democratic place in doubt between William Dickman and Charles Lexow.

John Mellon was renominated for Circuit Clerk over Rudolph Wolf, and H. M. Sanders, Recorder, was renamed over Percy P. Lusk for that office. Joseph P. Streuber, for State's Attorney, was renominated over Charles C. Ellison. Joseph H. Krill, the present Coroner, lost to Edward Mercer. Louis A. Bright is the Republican candidate for County Auditor, and W. H. Morgan for County Surveyor.

Chairman of Narcotic Drugs and Crime of American Criminal Law Institute Submits Report.

By the Associated Press.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Sept. 17.—More than 75 per cent of the narcotic drug addicts in the United States are boys and girls approximating 16 years of age, Albert Weber of New York, chairman of the Committee on Narcotic Drugs and Crime of the American Institute of Criminal Law and Criminology, declared in his report to the annual meeting of the institute here today. He declared that the only hope of effective relief was through congressional legislation.

WOMAN CONVICTED OF SLAYING

By the Associated Press.

FORT WORTH, Tex., Sept. 17.—Mrs. Myrtle Stiles, who has been on trial at Rotan, Tex., was found guilty of manslaughter following the slaying of her divorced husband, Roy Winters, and sentenced to 10 years in the penitentiary by a jury yesterday.

Winters was killed at Jayton in September, 1918. The couple had been divorced and the custody of the three children given to the father for nine months of the year.

PRIVATE DETECTIVE SAYS HE GOT $740 IN $4050 ROBBERY

Oscar Roderman 39, Who Says He Made $200 Weekly as Bootlegger, Confesses at Police Headquarters.

DENIES HELPING IN ACTUAL HOLDUP

Prisoner's Arrest Follows Information Given by Four Men Charged With Refrigerator Payroll Robbery.

Oscar Roderman, 39 years old, of 4033A McRee avenue, who says he is a strike-breaking detective, and that he has recently made more than $200 a week as a bootlegger, admitted today at Police Headquarters that he took part in planning the National Refrigerators Co. payroll robbery of Aug. 21, and said he got $740 of the proceeds, the total being $4056.10. He did not take part in the actual robbery, all the participants in which are now under arrest.

Four Held for Robbery.

Roderman, who has a room at the Orpheum Hotel, Ninth and Chestnut streets, was arrested last night at King's highway and Manchester avenue. His arrest resulted from information given to the police by the four prisoners who have admitted a part in the robbery. These are Thomas Flowers, 48 years old, a former city fireman, who says he lowered the gate of the Koeln avenue grade crossing in order to stop the automobile in which an official of the refrigerator company was carrying the payroll money from a bank to the plant; Harry Schmelzer, who says he drove the stolen Chevrolet car in which the robbers rode; Charles Clayton Adams and Roy Mills. The last three are youths.

Prisoners Confront Roderman.

All the prisoners confronted Roderman this morning, and Flowers entered into a bitter discussion with him as to the disposition of the stolen money, each accusing the other of having taken more than his share. It developed that Flowers had been a boarder at Roderman's McRee avenue home, and was behind in his board bill. Flowers declared that Roderman suggested the robbery to him as a means of paying his debts. Flowers said he got $110 of the payroll money, and that he paid $95 of this money to Roderman's mother in settlement of his board bill.

Roderman disputed Flowers' assertion that he had received only $110, and said, "You got $700, and you lost it that night (Aug. 21), and advertised in a newspaper for it."

Mills admitted, in the course of the discussion, that he got $300 more than the $600 which he had originally said he received. This sum, he said, was in three $100 bills which he took from the pocket of the man robbed, and which was not with the payroll money, but was included in the total of $4056.10. "You were holding out," he said to Roderman. "So I held out on you."

$1000 Still Unaccounted For.

With the admissions of Mills and Roderman, the stolen money lacks more than $1000 of being accounted for. Mills says he got $900, Roderman $740, Flowers $110 ($700 by Roderman's account), Schmelzer $400 and Adams $180, a total, at the most, of $2920.

Roderman, the police learned, was an employe of J. J. Ople's Interstate Employers' Secret Service, a private detective agency. Ople and two of his men were indicted in Madison County, Ill., for the killing of Clarence Turner in a labor conflict in Granite City last May. Roderman says he was not employed on the Granite City case, and was at that time doing special work at the National Refrigerators plant, where there were labor troubles.

Roderman, after admitting that he got $740 of the proceeds of the robbery, said he was robbed at the Falstaff Cafe, that night, after having become intoxicated on drinks that cost $32 a round. "They rolled me and got my roll," he said.

Tells Story of Robbery.

Schmelzer, in the discussion, confession and general incrimination at headquarters, told his story of the robbery. He said Roderman picked up an acquaintance with him at Broadway and Market street, telling him that if he would drive a car for Roderman and others, some "easy money" could be made.

"We got the Chevrolet at Seventh and Lucas," Schmelzer said, "and we all met at Eighteenth and Franklin. Roderman told me where to drive, and went along as far as Broadway and Koeln, then he got out and told me to drive west. As the paymaster's automobile came along, Flowers got out and lowered the gates, and the other two held up the man.

"Roderman wasn't near at that time. We abandoned the car at King's highway and Magnolia, soon after, and we met in a soft drink place at Broadway and Market the next day, and got our money from Roderman. He said to beat it, that the police were on our trail."

MRS. CRAVENS GOT NOTE ABOUT GIRL, THEN ENDED LIFE

Husband Testifies Reply to Inquiry About Former Resident of Little Rock Was Factor in Suicide.

BOND BUYER SAYS HE WAS FORGIVEN

Physician Testifies Cravens Said to Him, "I Got Mixed Up With a Woman and This Is Result."

A letter introduced in evidence at the inquest today showed that a short time before Mrs. Nancy Gordon Cravens, 40 years old, of 504 Lake avenue, shot and killed herself at her home yesterday afternoon, she had received a reply to an inquiry which she made concerning her husband and a young woman who formerly lived in Little Rock, Ark.

Mrs. Cravens was the wife of Rutherford R. Cravens, a bond buyer for Whitaker & Co., brokers. Testifying at the inquest, Cravens identified the letter as the one he found near his wife's body. When asked by the Coroner if he thought the letter had anything to do with his wife's act in taking her life, Cravens replied:

"Yes. That letter contributed. She had heard that I had gone with this young woman in Little Rock this summer. She had forgiven me, or said she had."

Letter in Reply to Inquiry.

Cravens wept while giving his testimony. He was not questioned further about the young woman, whose name was not mentioned. He said his wife had been a sufferer from tuberculosis for several years and had once told him she had thought of killing herself.

The letter found beside the couch, on which Mrs. Cravens was found, was signed "J. H. Kirkpatrick," and postmarked at Little Rock. It was on the letterhead of the State Executive Committee of the Young Men's Christian Associations of Arkansas. It read:

"Dear Mrs. Cravens—Your communication with reference to a young lady who was formerly with us and has gone to Texas was received in due time. The young lady went to El Paso. For rather good reasons I would suggest as a friend of hers, of yourself and Mr. Cravens that if you have any communications for the young lady, you send them to me and I will see that same are properly delivered. I wish to assure you that any communication will be held perfectly confidential, but I am at present not inclined to give the young lady's name and definite address."

Statement of Physician.

Dr. Arthur Brooks of 4661 Maryland avenue testified that he was called to the Cravens home about 4:30 p. m. yesterday, and found Mrs. Cravens dead of a wound in the chest. The physician testified that Cravens said to him: "I am mixed up with a woman, and this is the result."

Cravens testified that his wife called him on the telephone about 3:30 p. m. and said she wanted him to come home at once. He did so, arriving about 4 p. m. He saw his wife lying on a couch, he said, and at first did not realize that anything had happened. When he attempted to rouse her he discovered she was shot and found a revolver on the couch beside her.

Received Two Letters.

Miss Hunter Clifton of Aberdeen, Miss., who said she was staying with friends at 4363 McPherson avenue, testified that she called on Mrs. Cravens yesterday afternoon. She said Mrs. Cravens seemed so nervous and upset that she realized her visit was at an inopportune time. While she was there, she said, two letters were delivered to Mrs. Cravens. She noticed that one of these was postmarked at Little Rock and that the address was in Mrs. Cravens' handwriting, from which she judged that the letter was in an envelope which Mrs. Cravens had inclosed for a reply to a letter which she had sent to Little Rock. Mrs. Cravens, she said, did not open the letters while she was there.

Mrs. Cravens before her marriage was Miss Nancy Blake of Memphis, Tenn., a niece of the late Gen. Geo. B. Gordon of Memphis, at whose home she lived.

TUBERCULAR PRISONERS TO BE SEGREGATED AT PENITENTIARY

Old Storage Building to Be Remodeled for Use as Open Air Hospital for 30 Patients.

By the Associated Press.

JEFFERSON CITY, Sept. 17.—Segregation of tubercular prisoners at the State Penitentiary will be undertaken by the Prison Board, under a plan suggested by Gov. Gardner. An effort to effect cures, wherever possible, will be made.

According to plans, the old frame building located at the stockade will be made an open air hospital for consumptive prisoners. The building has been used only for storage purposes, and the board will endeavor to remodel it for its new purpose. The building is expected to house 30 patients, and they will be given treatment similar to that received by patients in the State Sanitarium at Mount Vernon.

The treatment of tubercular patients at the prison has been a problem for several years, the officials said. Some of the patients have been placed in the prison hospital and in that way have been segregated from the other prisoners to a certain extent.

There are more than 30 prisoners in the penitentiary with symptoms of tuberculosis, the officials said, but by segregating the worst cases the disease will be prevented from spreading, it is thought.

NEALE SAYS PICTURE OF HOGAN LOOKS LIKE ASSAILANT

Former Democratic Chairman Is Witness at Committee Investigation of Attack on Capitol Steps.

Ben M. Neale, former chairman of the Democratic State Committee, who was beaten and kicked on the State Capitol steps at Jefferson City Tuesday by two men said to have been Democratic politicians of St. Louis, and Thomas H. Fisher, secretary of the Democratic State Committee, today identified a picture of Edward J. Hogan, formerly member of the State Legislature and now a Deputy State Beverage Inspector, as "looking very much like the man" who first struck Neale. This occurred in the course of an investigation into the affair being made by a committee of which State Senator Mike Kinney is chairman. Witnesses are being heard today at Democratic State headquarters in the Pontiac Building.

Neale also testified that John F. Byrne, member of the Democratic State Committee and also of the Democratic City Committee of St. Louis and constable in the court of Justice Jimmy Miles, was the man who jumped on him after the first man had struck and knocked him down. City Committeeman Frank J. O'Neill of the Twenty-seventh ward came up the steps while the fight was in progress, Neale said, and cried, "Don't do that, for God's sake!"

Kicked and Beaten, He Says.

His assailant came down the steps behind him, Neale said, and struck him as he partly turned. They grappled and fell, himself on top, Neale said. Then the other man, identified as Byrne, came and broke his grip on the first man's neck, and the pair kicked and beat him, Neale declared.

Mrs. R. E. Oldfather, chairman of the Women's Democratic City Committee of St. Louis, who Neale said was near when the fight occurred, testified that when she and women with her heard the scuffle, they didn't even turn to look, but hurried away.

Efforts are being made to get Hogan before the investigators this afternoon, Neale having requested his presence that he may either make complete the identification or exonerate Hogan if he was not one of the assailants.

It was stated at Democratic headquarters this morning that Byrne could not be removed from the committee, there being no provision in the law for the removal of a committeeman. Members of the committee said, however, that if the evidence was convincing that Byrne was one of the guilty parties he would be ostracised by other members of the committee.

HOTEL MANAGER HELD AFTER SHOOTING OF MAN

Shots Fired From Second Floor When Three Try to Force Door Open.

Chris Winters, manager of the Arlington Hotel at 622 Morgan street, was arrested at 2:45 a. m. today after Arthur Enderer, 23 years old, of 5213 Blair avenue, a car repairer, had been shot in the neck at the hotel.

Policemen who heard shots, ran to the hotel and found Chester Delgman, 24, of 3035 North Twentieth street, running away. They arrested him. A short time later Enderer staggered out of the hotel and fell on the sidewalk.

In the second floor office of the hotel the policemen found Winters and Miss Blanche Pabst, 45 years old, housekeeper. They said Winters had fired four shots from the head of the stairs at men who had broken down the door at the ground floor entrance. This door, they said had been locked for the night.

Delgman told policemen he and Enderer and Charles Gervitz of 629 Athlone avenue went to the hotel and tried to get in. He said Winters knew them and had invited them there. They knocked on the door, he said, and Winters put his head out of the window and told them to go away, as the hotel was full. They then forced open the door, he said, and shots were fired from the second floor. Winters denied he had invited the men to the hotel.

Gervitz was arrested at his home. Enderer is at the city hospital. Winters and Miss Pabst are held for further investigation.

Warning Against Patent Motor Fuels
By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 17.—Warning against the purchase of patent motor fuels and other products advertised as having been tested and approved by the Bureau of Mines was given in a statement issued today by that bureau. In several instances, the warning said, companies had so advertised products of very different composition from those submitted to the bureau for test.

Mob of 300 Hangs Negro in Texas.
By the Associated Press.

HOUSTON, Tex., Sep. 17.—Oscar Beasley, negro, who was indicted yesterday afternoon for the murder of Sheriff Joe Snow of Bazoria County, later was taken from the county jail at Angleton by a mob of 300 persons and hanged. Beasley was arrested yesterday morning after a hunt that began when the murder of Snow was discovered Wednesday afternoon.

ELKS PLAN DANCE AND SHOW FOR MILK FUND

Entire Proceeds Will Go to Aid Babies—Theaters Asked to Lend Entertainers.

An informal dance and entertainment on a large scale is being arranged for next Friday by members of St. Louis Lodge, No. 9, B. P. O. Elks, at their clubhouse, 3619 Lindell boulevard. The entire proceeds will be devoted to helping defray the expenses of furnishing milk and ice to the tenement children of the city through the Post-Dispatch Pure Milk and Free Ice Fund.

Each member of the committee in charge, which includes J. H. Glauber, Leslie Cash and Sol Pimentel, has been working assiduously for several days toward perfection of every detail of the affair, and it promises to provide a substantial sum. Every effort is being made to obtain superior talent, and each theater in St. Louis is being requested by Pimentel, who will manage the entertainment, to lend one or more acts for the program.

The affair will be informal, taking the place of the first dance of the season, which is always reserved by club members as a formal gathering, and the committee is depending on the club membership and their friends to give hearty support. Tickets are $1, and may be obtained from the secretary's office or Elk members.

The entire club is to be given over to the program, "open house" will be maintained, and amusement offered in all corners. Max Goldman's orchestra will furnish music for the dancing in the auditorium and a continuous entertainment will be presented in the rathskeller, where Joe Fuchs will preside at the piano and support the entertainers before the arrival of the theatrical performers. Diversion will be offered by the St. Louis talent, headed by the Leo Feist Boosters, who will sing all their latest song hits, and Tom Spahn.

Despite the temperate weather the demands upon the Milk and Ice Fund have been greater this summer than ever before and this entertainment will provide a means of assisting the fund.

FATALLY HURT IN TRAIN SHEDS

Express Handler Dies at Hospital After Being Hit by Car.

Lindsey Sublett, 51 years old, of 1923 Chouteau avenue, died at St. Mary's Infirmary at 1 p. m. yesterday from injuries received in an accident earlier in the day in the train sheds at Union Station, where he was employed as an express handler by the American Railway Express Co.

While handling an express package at track No. 5 he was struck by an express car of an incoming train and fell under the wheels of the car. Both of his legs were crushed and it was necessary to amputate one of them. He also was injured on the head. He was married.

MRS. ALICE VAN CLEAVE ENDS LIFE WITH GAS

Maid Says Former Wife of Stove Man Had Talked of Ending Life.

A Coroner's verdict of suicide by gas asphyxiation was returned today after inquiry into the death of Mrs. Alice Meysenburg Van Cleave, 4732 Westminster place, former wife of Lee W. Van Cleave, president of Buck's Stove and Range Co., who divorced him in June last. Her body was found at 5:15 p. m. yesterday in a bedroom which was filled with gas escaping from a heating apparatus, the valve of which had been left open, with the doors and windows closed.

J. H. Westcott, who, with his wife, occupies the house under a lease, testified that he spoke at 11 o'clock to Mrs. Van Cleave, who occupied the upper floor with her 13-year-old son, Eugene, and that he called her up on the telephone at 1 p. m. and at both times she seemed cheerful. When he returned at 5 p. m. he found the screen door latched. At 5:15 her son returned and they got in and the son went upstairs. He called down that something was wrong and Westcott went up and found Mrs. Van Cleave dead.

Clara Lucas, Mrs. Van Cleave's maid, testified that she had been despondent for a year and had talked of killing herself. The maid left the house at 2 p. m. Mrs. Mary Soper of 4731 Westminster place testified to the same effect.

Mrs. Van Cleave obtained her divorce decree June 4 last, with custody of her son, and with an order that Van Cleave pay $150 a month for the boy's support, the boy to visit him occasionally. She said she desired no alimony, having sufficient means of her own. The Van Cleaves had been married 18 years. The wife charged indignities.

She was the daughter of Mrs. Della Meysenburg at 5082 Washington avenue. Two brothers survive her, Carl and Fred Meysenburg, and two sisters, Mrs. J. R. Whittemore of 5614 Waterman avenue and Mrs. Alfred Dennis of New York. The funeral will be held at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning from the mother's residence.

Negro Fined $35 for Speeding.

Chauncey Jones of 4419 West Belle place, a negro chauffeur, was fined $35 in police court today for driving an automobile 45 miles an hour on Lindell boulevard, between Boyle and Euclid avenues, yesterday morning. He was arrested by a member of the Vigilance Committee.

Catarrh of the Stomach Is Dangerous

"Thousands Have It and Don't Know It," Says Physician. Frequently Mistaken for Indigestion—How to Recognize and Treat.

"Thousands of people suffer more or less constantly from furred, coated tongue, bad breath, sour, burning stomach, frequent vomiting, rumbling in stomach, bitter eructations, gas, wind and stomach acidity and call it indigestion when in reality their trouble is due to gastric catarrh of the stomach," writes a New York physician.

Catarrh of the stomach is dangerous because the mucous membrane lining of the stomach is thickened and a coating of phlegm covers the surface so that the digestive fluids cannot mix with the food and digest them. This condition soon breeds deadly disease in the fermented, unassimilated food. The blood is polluted and carries the infection throughout the body. Gastric ulcers are apt to form and frequently an ulcer is the first sign of a deadly cancer.

In catarrh of the stomach a good and safe treatment is to take before meals a teaspoonful of pure Bisurated Magnesia in half a glass of hot water as hot as you can comfortably drink it. The hot water washes the mucus from the stomach walls and draws the blood to the stomach, while the bisurated magnesia is an excellent solvent for mucus and increases the efficiency of the hot-water treatment. Moreover, the Bisurated Magnesia will serve as a powerful yet harmless antacid, which will neutralize any excess hydrochloric acid that may be in your stomach and sweeten its food contents. Easy, natural digestion without distress of any kind should soon follow. Bisurated Magnesia is not a laxative, is harmless, pleasant and easy to take, and can be obtained from any local druggist. Don't confuse Bisurated Magnesia with other forms of magnesia, milk, citrates, etc., but get it in the pure bisurated form (powder or tablets); specially prepared for this purpose.

The Girls' Shop Is Busy Outfitting Girls and Juniors for School and Dress-Up Occasions

THEY are splendidly prepared to meet this demand—showing Coats, Suits and Dresses in smart styles youthfully developed. Displayed tomorrow are the

New Velvet Frocks, $22.50 to $42.50

These charming Velvet Dresses present any number of lovely models for "best" wear. In guimpe, Russian blouse and straightline styles. They take such colorful trimming as yarn embroideries of many hues, leather motifs and Roman striped sashes. Sizes are from 8 to 16 years.

Serge and Tricotine Frocks

Fashionable young schoolmaids and mothers, too, will like the new style touches these Autumn wool frocks are showing. Little girls will select the short-waisted guimpe Dresses, with their white vestees, while juniors will favor the straightline Frocks that resemble their older sister's. Here, too, embroidery is lavishly used—beading, ribbons and plaiting. Sizes 6 to 16 years. $10.75 to $45.00

Regulation Dresses, $12.75 to $22.50

Blue Bates cloth, white jean and linen Regulation Dresses; braid and emblem trimmed; sizes 6 to 16 years $2.95 to $22.50

Middies of white jean and blue Bates cloth; sizes 6 to 20 years $2.45 to $7.50

Middy Skirts of navy serge—plaited on waist or band; sizes 6 to 16 years $3.95 to $8.95

Items of Interest

The Vandervoort Music Hall

IS there anyone who hasn't seen the Vandervoort Music Hall? Do you know that it stands on historic ground? In 1851, Charles Pope purchased the ground at Ninth and Olive streets and erected the Pope Theater, the theater where Booth, Sothern, Rossi, Adelina Patti and other artists appeared. Then in 1897 this theater was replaced by the Century Theater, which building Vandervoort's leased in 1913. And in this building the Music Hall was built—an auditorium which has proved a fulfillment of a long-felt want.

Music Hall—Sixth Floor.

You Can't Tell Us!

YOU can't tell us that men are not conceited—that they are not mighty particular about their looks—at all times. No, you can't! Just listen—we have just received a new shipment of cotton Pajamas, in white, plain colors, crossbars and colored stripes. And some are trimmed with a narrow satin ribbon and frogs. The price tags say they are from $3.00 to $6.50 a pair, and they are certainly worth it.

One More Day—Saturday—of the Sale of 400 New Overcoats

You should have seen the throngs of men that came into the department after these Coats Thursday and again Friday morning, and you should have heard the enthusiastic praise that everyone had to utter. Many men said that it had been years since they had seen such wonderful values in Overcoats, and the smart styles created a great deal of comment, too.

These Coats are well tailored, in most desirable patterns, and they are just the proper weight for comfort and for good appearance throughout the Winter season.

Whether or not there is a complete range of sizes tomorrow, we cannot definitely say, for so many Overcoats were sold Thursday and so many are being sold again today that it would be impossible to make a positive statement, but we believe a very good selection will be found, and we know the values will be just as men obtained all day Thursday and all day today, for there are no poor grades in the lot; every Overcoat is strictly new, smart, stylish and very much under the prevailing prices of the season.

Such a fortunate purchase as this is not likely to come again for a long time, for you actually save from $6.25 to $21.25 when you purchase an Overcoat in this event.

Come down tomorrow morning at 9:00 o'clock and make your selection.

The Big News! Another Shipment of 2-Pants Suits

Bought for us months ago, when the makers needed ready cash, by the clothing experts of our combined stores. These experts selected the trimmings, the linings, the styles, and watched the making so they would compare with the best tailored suits in the market.

2-Pants Suits That Would Cost You $75 to $100 Tailored to Order

But tomorrow in this big sale, you choose yours at any one of these three prices,

$38.50 $48.50 $58.50

Beautiful single and double breasted models, wonderfully made and superbly trimmed by America's foremost tailors—Suits that smack of real value, that fill a long-felt want—not coat and pants that will soon feel the chilly blasts of cold winds, but Fall and Winter weight models with an extra pair of trousers that practically doubles the life of the Suit.

All-Wool Blue Serges All-Wool Worsteds
All-Wool Casimeres All-Wool Mixtures

The Two-Pants idea is right—and it's one that has the hearty approval of every man really interested in lowering the high cost of clothing. It's a hard job to match the coat, which is still good, with an odd pair of trousers, without looking like a misfit. But what a pleasure to pull out that extra pair of trousers and, man alive, you've got a new Suit again.

Get here early—there's going to be a crowd when this sale starts at 9:00 o'clock tomorrow, and though we'll have extra salespeople to wait on you, we know that you'll enjoy being among the first to make your selection.

Sale starts promptly at 9:00 a. m. Saturday on the Main Floor of the Men's Store.

SMALL'S LEAD OVER OGLESBY CUT TO 2995

Error of 6463 Votes Found in Unofficial Tabulation in One Ward in Chicago Causes Reduction.

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Sept. 17.—Returns from 5182 precincts out of 5737 in the Illinois primary for Republican nomination for Governor, give:

Grand total, 5182 precincts: Oglesby, 336,126; Small, 339,121.

Returns from 5173 precincts for Republican nomination for United States Senator give:

Grand total, 5173 precincts: McKinley, 331,957; Smith, 322,476.

A clerical error in Peoria County due to confusion in tabulating the men's and women's votes, caused an error in the primary count announced by county officials there.

An error of 6463 in the City News Bureau's figures for the Thirty-second Ward of Chicago reduced Small's plurality by that amount.

The official canvass to be held Tuesday probably will be necessary to determine the Democratic senatorial winner, as with compilation of unofficial returns, Robert E. Burke and Peter Waller continued to run neck and neck. With 2815 precincts in the State tabulated, of which 2130 were in Cook County, the vote was: Burke, 48,820; Waller, 48,992.

Runoff Primary to Decide Candidate for Georgia Governor.

By the Associated Press.

ATLANTA, Ga., Sept. 17.—Georgia Democrats will participate in a second primary Oct. 6 to decide the contest between former Senator Hardwick and Clifford Walker, former State Attorney-General, for the nomination for Governor.

A runoff primary was ordered after the subcommittee of the Democratic State Executive Committee yesterday threw out Senator Hardwick's protest that illegal voting occurred in Decatur County. This left neither Walker nor Hardwick with a majority.

PHYSICIAN EXONERATED IN DEATH OF HIS WIFE

Dr. Eugene Waterhouse, 70 years old, of 3237 Lafayette avenue, was discharged today on the $2500 bond under which he had been since the death of his wife, Luella V. Waterhouse, 31, who shot and killed herself at their home Sept. 9.

A Coroner's jury returned an open verdict and an investigation was ordered. The Circuit Attorney's office, after thorough inquiry, found there was no doubt that Mrs. Waterhouse took her own life and Dr. Waterhouse was fully exonerated.

Ambassador Davis to Return to Post.
By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 17.—John W. Davis, American Ambassador to Great Britain, who now is in the United States on leave, will return to his post in London, probably before the November elections. This statement was made at the State Department yesterday after a conference between Ambassador Davis and Secretary Colby.

BOLSHEVIK FOREIGN MINISTER REPLIES TO COLBY ON RUSSIA

Tchitcherin Says Distinctions Between Parts of Russia "Probably Are Based on Lack of Information."

By the Associated Press.

LONDON, Sept. 17.—Distinction drawn by Bainbridge Colby, United States Secretary of State, between Armenia, Poland, Finland and other sections of Russia which have declared their independence, and made in Colby's note of Aug. 10 to the Italian Ambassador in Washington, are "impossible to understand and probably the result of insufficient information as to the real facts of national conditions in Eastern Europe," says George Tchitcherin, Russian Bolshevik Minister of Foreign Affairs. M. Tchitcherin has addressed a note to the Italian Government and to "Soviet representatives abroad," in which he answers some of the conclusions reached by Colby in discussing Russian affairs.

The Foreign Minister's communication was dated at Moscow Sept. 10, and has been published in the London Daily Herald, organ of labor.

M. Tchitcherin says Colby considers the demand for independence of Poland, Finland and Armenia legal, saying they were annexed to Russia by force and that their separation does not infringe upon Russia's territorial rights. He asserts, the Secretary holds, that other "oppressed nationalities of Czarist Russia" were not annexed by force and that the desires for independence of the Georgian, Azerbaijan, Lithuanian, Letvian, Esthonian and Ukrainian peoples, either in the form of complete independence or in federation with Russia, are illegal.

"Colby's Exceptions."

"The exceptions allowed for by Mr. Colby," says the Foreign Minister, "underline the more emphatically his adherence to the territorial indivisibility of the former Czarist empire, while at the same time his friendliness toward Russia is conditioned upon the fact that her Government shall not be a Soviet Government. As a matter of fact, any other Government at present is a bourgeoise or capitalist Government, and, in view of the present economic unification of the world, that means a Government connected with the interests of the world's dominating financial groups. Among these, as a result of the world war, the most powerful are the North American financial groups.

"Mr. Colby's friendliness toward Russia is therefore conditioned on the stipulation that her regime should be such as would enable domination of the North American financial groups in Europe. In his desire to maintain Czarist territory inviolable, he not only differs from Great Britain's policy but is engaged in an actual struggle against it. Obviously the group he represents realizes that other interests, namely, British interests, have established themselves in new States separated from Russia, and Mr. Colby sees no other way of combating them than to abolish the independence of these States. Totally different from both is the Soviet Russian policy, which is a policy of complete renunciation of any exploitation of another people.

The Soviet Plan.

"The system represented by the Soviet Government, under which the working masses, having removed exploiters from power, may determine their own fate and govern themselves, is the only existing defiance against the domination of exploiters and interests of the leading groups of world capital, foremost of all the American groups, and this is an explanation as to why Mr. Colby displays such an implacable hostility and hurls against Soviet Russia such false accusations.

"The Communist party provokes Mr. Colby's violent hostility because the Communist party is at the head of the revolutionary movement of working classes in all countries, including America. This world-wide struggle is rooted in the actual conditions existing in all countries, but Mr. Colby attempts to explain it by attributing it to propaganda by Russian Soviet agents. This is not the first time that we have seen attempts on the part of American financial groups to discredit Soviet Russia by calumnies."

M. Tchitcherin then refers to an alleged forged document published in America which, he says, "contained alleged proof of the Bolsheviki being German agents."

Justice in Philippines to Quit.
By the Associated Press.

MANILA, P. I., Sept. 17.—Justice Percy M. Moir of the Supreme Court for the Philippines, announced here yesterday that he would submit his resignation to President Wilson. Resignation by Justice Moir would place Filipino Justices of the court in a majority.

CREDIT EXTENSION OPPOSED

WASHINGTON, Sept. 17.—Extension of credit by the Government does not seem warranted by present conditions, Secretary Houston stated today, attributing much of the popular clamor for more credit to persons desiring to hold their goods for higher prices.

The Government could hardly aid in withholding commodities from the markets by extension of credit, the Secretary declared, without being a party to a conspiracy in restraint of trade and making more secure high price levels. Credit expansion recently has been ample, the Secretary said, to provide for the movement of crops and the general tendency has been more toward expansion than restriction. The situation, he added, is clearing gradually.

WOMAN ENDS HER LIFE IN LAKE IN O'FALLON PARK

Sister Says Miss Elizabeth Reid Had Undergone Several Operations Recently.

Miss Elizabeth Reid, 35 years old of 4426 Greer avenue, ended her life early today by drowning in the larger of the lakes in O'Fallon Park. Her body was recovered at 6 a. m. about 15 feet from the west bank of the lake in about five feet of water.

An elder sister, Miss Helen Reid, with whom she slept, awakened about 4 a. m. and found that her sister was not in bed, nor in the house. She recalled that her sister recently had talked of drowning herself in the lake at O'Fallon Park.

With another sister, Annabelle, she aroused a neighbor, and with him the sisters went to O'Fallon Park. Miss Elizabeth Reid's hat and slippers were on the west bank of the larger lake. The police were notified and recovered the body after dragging. It was fully clothed except for the hat and slippers.

Miss Helen Reid said that her sister recently had undergone several abdominal operations. She was the daughter of Mrs. Bridget Reid, a widow, of the Greer avenue address.

EMIL N. TOLKACZ, FORMER WELFARE DIRECTOR, TO WED

Mrs. Katherine Nobbe, When Resigning as Health Department Clerk, Tells of Engagement.

It became known today that Emil N. Tolkacz, formerly Director of Public Welfare, who lives at the Algonquin Club, and Mrs. Katherine Nobbe of 3411 Alberta street, until recently a clerk in the office of the Registrar of Vital Statistics, are to be married soon. They have not announced the date, but it is understood that the wedding is to be tonight.

Mrs. Nobbe, in resigning her position and saying good-by to friends at the Municipal Courts Building, said that she was to be married to Tolkacz. To a Post-Dispatch reporter today she admitted the engagement, but referred to Tolkacz for particulars. Tolkacz refused to give information, but promised to do so tomorrow.

Tolkacz was foremrly president of the Civic League. He resigned Nov. 7, 1917. He is manager of the Missouri Boiler and Sheet Iron Works, 908 South Twenty-third street. He has two sons and is a grandfather. His wife died in August, 1916.

Mrs. Nobbe has a son and daughter, both grown. She is said to have been a close friend of Mrs. Tolkacz. At the Municipal Courts Building it is understood that she obtained her appointment through Tolkacz.

Combing Won't Rid Hair of Dandruff

The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

Do this tonight, and by morning, most, if not all, of your dandruff will be gone and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop at once, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, (silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive and never fails to do the work.

CONSTITUTION OR COVENANT ISSUE, HARDING SAYS

By the Associated Press.

MARION, Ohio, Sept. 17.—Pronouncing the League of Nations covenant irreconcilable with the American Constitution, Senator Harding declared in a Constitution day address here that the time had come for the United States to decide whether it would preserve or abandon the charter under which it achieved nationality.

"The Constitution or the covenant, that is the paramount issue," he said. "The two are irreconcilable. We cannot be governed from both Geneva and Washington. We cannot follow our present Chief Magistrate without forsaking the Father of Our Country."

The Republican nominee also assailed the Administration's policy toward the smaller nations of the western hemisphere, asserting that the Executive had usurped congressional powers to carry on an unconstitutional war with Hayti and San Domingo. He declared the recent utterances of Franklin D. Roosevelt, the Democratic nominee for Vice President, had revealed officially for the first time the American Government's "rape" of the two little republics.

View of Balanced Powers.

The speech, delivered from the front porch to delegations from several Ohio counties, reviewed the circumstances surrounding the making of the Constitution and outlined the candidate's conception of the balanced powers of the executive, legislative and judicial branches of the Government. Only by preserving that balance, he said, could the United States fulfill its greatest destiny.

"The Constitution has never failed America," he continued, "and despite heedless assertions to the contrary, America has never failed the world. And now, as never before,

PANTEX
is very economical, pound for pound it makes more hot cakes than any of the average pancake flours

Hot Cakes!

—mean a delightful treat and a wholesome meal when they're Pantex hot cakes.

Everything in Pantex is good and pure and wholesome—the best of flours, wheat, rice, and corn—pure phosphate baking powder that makes the cakes light and fluffy—salt from the best producer in the country—and because milk makes hot cakes tender and nourishing and corn sugar makes them appetizingly brown—Pantex contains twice as much of these costly ingredients.

If you had all these good things handy and knew just the right proportion in which they should be mixed, you could make as good hot cakes as Pantex—but Pantex saves you all this trouble.

If it were possible to produce a more perfect hot cake flour than Pantex we would do it because only the highest quality products bear the Gambrill name and trademark. Every package carries our unqualified money-back guarantee.

CONSTITUTION OR COVENANT ISSUE, HARDING SAYS

she stands ready, and, let us hope, will soon be in a position, through earnest co-operation of all branches of our Government, to lend a helping hand, but she herself must point the way.

"How can we, then, in reason and with confidence, make sure of fulfilling our mission on earth? The first step is plain. We must strictly maintain and scrupulously observe, in letter and in spirit, the mandates of the Constitution of the United States. We are not doing so now. We are at war, not alone technically with Germany, but actually with the little, helpless republics of our own hemisphere. The wars upon our neighbors to the south were made and are still being waged, though never declared, through the usurpation by the executive of powers not only never bestowed upon him, but scrupulously withheld by the Constitution.

Quotes F. D. Roosevelt.

"Of the fact there can be no question. It is admitted, even boasted of, by the Democratic candidate for Vice President, between whom, if elected, and the presidency itself would be but a single life. 'You know,' he said to the people of Montana, as his words were quoted by the press, 'I have had something to do with the running of a couple of little republics. The fact is that I wrote Hayti's Constitution myself and, if I do say it, I think it is a pretty good Constitution. Until last week I had two votes in the league assembly; now Secretary Daniels has them.'

"To the best of my information this is the first official admission of the rape of Hayti and San Domingo by the present administration. To my mind, moreover, it is the most shocking assertion that ever emanated from a responsible member of the Government of the United States.

"True, we know little of the conduct of these wars of 'occupation,' and the imposition of laws upon our helpless neighbors. The censorship is no less strict th t it was during the secret conferences, and conspiracies in Paris. Practically all we know now is that thousands of native Haytians have been killed by American marines, and that many of our own gallant men have sacrificed their lives at the behest of an executive department in order to establish laws drafted by an Assistant Secretary of the Navy, to secure a vote in the league and to continue at the point of the bayonet a military domination which at this moment, requires the presence of no less than 3000 of our armed men on that foreign soil.

"Constitution or Covenant."

"Vastly more important and far more menacing to our own popular institutions than even this distressing example is the proposal to transfer by indirection, the chief prerogative of one department of the Government to another. As all are well aware, the Constitution vests in Congress exclusively the power to declare war, but it also declares that a duly executed treaty 'shall be the supreme law of the land.'

"Under Article 10 of the Versailles covenant, now being subjected to a solemn referendum, it would be the appointee and representative of the President, not of Congress nor of the people, who would either acquiesce in or reject a proposition in the council of the league to uphold by force of arms the cause of one power against another.

"The Constitution or the covenant —that, my countrymen, is the paramount issue. The two are irreconcilable. We cannot be governed from both Geneva and Washington. We cannot follow our present chief magistrate without forsaking the 'father of our country.' We cannot pin our faith to hazy visions of the future without putting out of mind the stern realities of the past."

MATERIAL SUPPLY CO. DRIVER REPORTS DAMAGE TO HIS TRUCK

Says Men Dumped Load of Gravel After Failing in Effort to Upset Vehicle.

The first report to the police of violence in the strike of 110 teamsters employed by the 37 members of the Material Dealers' Association was made yesterday by Louis Wolf, 20 years old, chauffeur of a truck of the St. Louis Material and Supply Co., 314 North Fourth street.

Wolf declared that at 3:30 p. m. men riding in a large automobile stopped his truck on Twenty-third street between Pine and Olive streets, and ordered him to alight, which he did. He said that the men tried to upset the truck, and, failing, dumped its load of gravel in the street and cut a hose essential to the operation of the engine.

After remaining closed for 36 days, and refusing to sell materials even to persons with their own conveyances, the material companies resumed deliveries last week.

The Unpleasant Day

The First, to many people, is the most unpleasant day of the month, as bills come to the office and the home, reminders of debts contracted which must be paid.

The First has no terrors for regular PIGGLY WIGGLY customers, so far as grocery bills are concerned, because they have saved, by buying from PIGGLY WIGGLY, enough to pay the water and light bills. They have the added satisfaction of knowing that they have secured for the money spent for their table needs the highest quality at the lowest margin of profit from a CLEAN STORE.

MISS PORTIA RICKMAN TO WED IN DECEMBER

Engagement to Ensign George R. Jones, N. A. R., of Pittsburg, Announced at Luncheon

THE engagement of Miss Portia Rickman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Rickman of Chester, Ill., and the Buckingham Hotel, to Ensign George Marshall Jones, N. A. R., of Pittsburg, was announced today at a luncheon with which Mrs. Richard Shelton and her daughter, Miss Caroline Shelton, of 4352 Westminster place entertained in honor of Miss Rickman. The guests included 10 of the honoree's intimate friends. The wedding will take place early in December. Miss Rickman was graduated in 1919 from Mary Institute and was a maid at the Veiled Prophet ball the same year. Mr. Jones is the son of Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Jones of Pittsburg. He served in the navy during the war, having first fought with the French army. He will take his bride to Pittsburg to reside.

Social Items

One of the most important nuptial events of the year will take place on Oct. 9, when Miss Jane Bemis will become the bride of Oliver Anderson. Miss Bemis is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Judson Bemis of Brentmoor. The wedding will take place in the garden of the Bemis home, at 4:30 o'clock in the afternoon. Miss Elizabeth Bemis will be maid of honor and the bridesmaids will include Misses Louise Bemis, Mary Randolph Gordon, Isabel Mauran, Grace Taylor, Lucy Ludington, Georgia Anderson, Betty and Eunice Hodgeman and Elizabeth Hord of Murfreesboro, Tenn. Mr. Anderson will have as best man Andrew McCreery. The groomsmen and ushers will be Thomas Reyburn, Pelham Turner, Hayward Niedringhaus, Frederick Gardner, James Bergs, Edward Hotchkiss, Brooks Knight, Auguste Chouteau, Wessell Shapleigh, I. A. Stevens, E. Ridgeley Simpson of Baltimore, F. Nelson Bolton and Harry A. Orrick of Baltimore. Theodore J. Knapp of New York and John Broadhead of Springfield, Ill.

Miss Bemis is a member of the Junior League and Imperial, and is one of the most beautiful girls in society. She was educated at Mary Institute and Miss Porter's School in Connecticut, and made her debut three years ago.

Mr. Anderson is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lorenzo E. Anderson of the Aberdeen Apartments. He is a member of the St. Louis Country and Racquet Clubs and the Imperial.

The marriage of Miss Grace Behring, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Behring of Washington, D. C., formerly of St. Louis, and Leigh Doxee was solemnized Wednesday at the home of the bride's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Ell Chalmers Bennett, 3934 Flora boulevard. After a bridal trip Mr. and Mrs. Doxee will reside in St. Louis.

Mrs. W. F. McMurry of 4441 Westminster place and her family will depart this week for Louisville, Ky., where they will reside. Bishop McMurry will join them later and will divide his time between Louisville and St. Louis.

Miss Mildred Brooks of 715 Limit avenue entertained today with a luncheon at her home in compliment to Miss Sara Baird of Dallas, Tex., who is the guest of Miss Mildred Hess of 5501 Bartmer. Miss Brooks' guests included, besides the honor guest and her hostess, Misses Mildred Smith, Margaret and Frances Woods and Mrs. Mona Hess.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Scott of 8818 West Pine boulevard will take possession of their new home, 6305 Westminster place, Parkview, next week.

Mrs. Lawrence Sprague Churchill of Americus, Ga., arrived this week from New York, where she has been visiting, and will be the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. Hutchings Moore of 4478 McPherson avenue, for some time. Mrs. Churchill was formerly Miss Bessie Moore. Her husband, Maj. Churchill, is commanding officer at Souther Field, Americus.

Miss Mildred Hess of 5501 Bartmer avenue will be hostess at a bridge party tomorrow afternoon at her home in honor of her guest, Miss Sara Baird of Dallas, Tex. Tomorrow night Miss Baird will be the honor guest at a dinner dance at the Missouri Athletic Association. She will depart next week for New York, where she will attend Columbia University.

Mr. and Mrs. M. Shoenberg of the Washington Hotel have returned from Charlevoix, Mich., where they spent the summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis R. Strauss of 5110 Pershing avenue are rejoicing over the arrival of a son, Sept. 13, whom they have named J. C., II.

Mrs. Burris A. Jenkins of Kansas City, Democratic national committeewoman for Missouri, will be at the Hotel Statler Saturday afternoon from 4 to 5:30 o'clock to meet the Democratic women of St. Louis. Mrs. J. W. McKnight, chairman of the Women's Democratic State Committee, will receive informally with Mrs. Jenkins.

Mr. and Mrs. V. O. Saunders of 5329 Savoy Court will entertain next month with a house party at their summer home, "Trail's End," in the Ozarks, in honor of Miss Annette Britt of Portland, Ore., and Miss Lucile Dubign of Augusta, Ga.

Miss Josephine Lawnin will be the honor guest at a tea Sunday afternoon with which Miss Louise Francis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Francis of 4915 Lindell boulevard, will entertain from 5 to 6 o'clock, for about 100 guests. Miss Doris Drummond and Miss Charlotte Lawnin will pour.

Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Gasaway of Kirkwood have announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Austo Gasaway, to A. J. McCabe of Pittsburg. The wedding will take place Sept. 20 at Cleveland, O. The couple will reside in Pittsburg.

POLISH-LITHUANIAN BOUNDARY DISPUTE UP IN COUNCIL TODAY

Decision on Aland Islands Case Goes Over Until Tomorrow, Pending Further Discussion.

PARIS, Sept. 17.—The Council of the League of Nations began a three-day session here yesterday for consideration of several international questions. Yesterday's meeting largely concerned the Aland Islands case, but final decision was withheld pending further discussion Saturday. The Swedish Government was represented by Premier Branting and Finland by M. Enckell, Finnish Minister to France.

Leon Bourgeois, who presided, presented the report of the committee of international jurists on the legal aspects of the case.

The following countries were represented: Great Britain, Greece, Japan, Belgium, France, Brazil and Spain.

The Council in the afternoon examined into the present situation regarding the Saare Valley. The boundary dispute which has nearly led to war between Poland and Lithuania will probably be taken up today, when a special representative from Lithuania will be heard.

COX, IN CALIFORNIA, PRAISES JOHNSON FOR FRANKNESS

By the Associated Press.

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Sept. 17.—In an address here today opening his California campaign, Gov. Cox of Ohio, Democratic presidential candidate, praised Senator Hiram Johnson, Republican, who resides here, as an exponent of progressivism and again flayed "big business" and Republican leaders supporting Senator Harding.

Although they differ fundamentally on the League of Nations, Gov. Cox said he admired Senator Johnson for frankness and lack of ambiguity or hypocrisy.

"He and I do not agree on international policies," said Gov. Cox to a large theater audience at a noon meeting," but I respect the man for his candor.

"I have looked with admiration on the fight which he has made throughout the years against reaction. He fought it with Roosevelt and he continued consistently the contest which began in 1912, through the primaries and the convention of 1920 just as Roosevelt would have done.

"As an Ohioan, I give to you the assurance that the observation made by a distinguished citizen of our State to the effect that Hiram Johnson was a blackguard and unfit to associate with decent men is not the view of our people. If Hiram Johnson had been a candidate before the Republican primaries in Ohio this year, he would have carried them.

"If the reactionary senatorial oligarchy gains control of the Government in this campaign, it will so manipulate the power of patronage that the progressive Republicans will either be compelled to join another party or to form one of their own.

"Let me recall a parallel between the campaigns of 1912 and 1920.

"Eight years ago Col. Roosevelt charged that the nomination was made by reactionary forces in defiance of the rank and file as expressed at the primaries. In 1920,

Cox Promises "Any Reasonable Concession" to Get U. S. in League

RENO, Nev., Sept. 17.

By the Associated Press.

ASSERTIONS that he would "make any reasonable concessions" to secure American membership in the League of Nations was made by Gov. Cox, Democratic presidential candidate, here last night at the close of his Nevada campaign.

In his statement, a telegram to Prof. Irving Fisher of Yale University, Gov. Cox said that the Democratic platform opposed only reservations of nullification. The Governor announced that he would "endeavor to meet all reasonable desires for proper reservations which are offered in sincerity."

precisely the same thing was done and Senator Johnson was humiliated the same as Col. Roosevelt. To his neighbors, when he returned home from the Chicago convention this year, he expressed no bitterness and said plainly that he would rather come back to his home State defeated than to have been nominated in the room of a Chicago hotel by representatives of big business. His further observation was: A few men have set at naught for the time being the American primary system.' It is true, and it would be futile to deny it, that there are many Cranes, Smoots and representatives of Morgan & Co., who arrogate to themselves the right of selection of candidates, notwithstanding what may have been decreed by the people themselves.

"I am unable to see by what process of reasoning the political party which has given to Boss Barnes of New York a distinct status of leadership in this campaign can expect the progressive friends of Theodore Roosevelt and Hiram Johnson to give it support. Barnes was the captain of the pirate ship. In the language of Roosevelt, he was the connecting link between crooked business and crooked politics. Doubtless, the return to Barnes is another evidence of going back to normality.

"Never were so many obligations to designing interests being assumed by the party of reaction as in this campaign. Under the belief that disturbed conditions following the war make political victory certain, methods are followed unblushingly and without concealment.

"In this great Western country, where I have been now for two weeks, I find many evidences of resentment. I am convinced that the currents of independent and progressive thought will be running so high by November that unholy enterprises will have been completely engulfed."

Gov. Cox's California campaign was in an effort to secure the electoral vote which four years ago clinched the re-election of President Wilson.

Leaving Sacramento at 1:35 p. m., the Governor was anticipating keenly his address tonight in the San Francisco Auditorium, where he was nominated in the early morning of July 6 last. He expected, in that speech, to contrast sharply the circumstances of his nomination with that of Senator Harding, his Republican opponent at Chicago. The Governor was due to reach San Francisco at 5:10 o'clock and speak at 8 p. m.

BOY, 6, STRUCK BY AUTOMOBILE, DIES FROM INJURIES

HIT WEDNESDAY DODGING TRUCK

Six Persons Hurt in Accidents Yesterday; Boy, 9, Run Down in Front of School, Another on Bicycle.

Gerald Nabe, 6 years old, son of Adolph Nabe of 918 Chouteau avenue, died at the city hospital about 6:30 p. m. yesterday from a fractured skull, suffered about 6 p. m. Wednesday when struck by the automobile of Roland Rautenburg of 5876 Odell avenue. It was the eighteth motor vehicle death in St. Louis this year.

The boy had started across the street in front of his home, and in dodging a truck, ran in the path of Rautenburg's car. He was picked up by Rautenburg, and taken to a physician who bandanged a bump on his head, after which Rautenburg took him home and explained the circumstances to the elder Nabe, giving his name and address. Nothing much was thought of the boy's injury until his father was unable to awaken him yesterday morning, when another physician was called, who discovered the boy's skull was fractured. He was taken to the city hospital, but died a few hours later.

Rautenberg was notified to attend the inquest.

Six Injured Yesterday.

Six persons were injured in automobile accidents yesterday.

Arthur Simpson, 9 years old, a pupil at the Madison School, 118 South Seventh street, suffered a fracture of the left leg about 3 p. m. when struck by the automobile of Darius Tancos, 27, a tool maker, of 2295 West Jefferson avenue, Detroit, in front of the school.

Harry Levin, 29, a pants maker, of 2800 Thomas street, was cut on the head when run down about 5:30 p. m. at Easton and Belt avenues by a car driven by Mrs. C. J. Ball of 7046 Pershing avenue.

Andrew Wolff, 10, of 3067 Marcus avenue, was cut on the left hip and left arm when a bicycle on which he was riding on Natural Bridge road just east of Normandy, St. Louis County, about 6:15 p. m., was struck by an automobile driven by James W. Corcoran of 6244 Arundel place.

Mrs. Ida Beattie, 45, of 5018 Cates avenue, was cut and bruised on the face about 8:45 p. m. when knocked down at King's highway and the Hodiamont street car tracks by an automobile driven by Mrs. James A. Lloyd of 5342 North Market street.

Girl, 7, Is Injured.

Marie Kokron, 7, of 1534 South Eighth street, was cut and bruised about 1 p. m. when struck by a car driven by Fred Willen of 2600 South Eleventh street, on Julia street just east of Eighth.

Walter Carroll, 20, a chauffeur, of 5039 Beacon street, suffered a fractured left arm about 3 p. m. when a truck of the Barry Commission Co., 815 North Fourth street, which he was driving, collided with an automobile driven by Ernest Hamwi, 30, of 4212 Lafayette avenue at Broadway and Cass avenue.

C. of C. for New State Code.

The Board of Directors of the Chamber of Commerce yesterday indorsed Amendment 15, which submits to the voters of the State at the general election Nov. 2, an amendment to the State Constitution providing for a bi-partisan election of delegates to a constitutional convention.

MILLERAND SEEMS LIKELY CHOICE FOR FRENCH PRESIDENT

General Belief in Poiltical Circles Is That Successor to Deschanel Will Be Chosen Next Friday.

By the Associated Press.

PARIS, Sept. 17.—A successor to Paul Deschanel, as President of France, will be elected Friday, Sept. 24, according to general belief in political circles today, although the date will not be definitely fixed until after the meeting of Parliament Tuesday, when the President's resignation, handed to Premier Millerand at Rambouillet yesterday, will be placed before the legislative bodies.

The successor, it appeared today, will be Alexandre Millerand, the present Premier, unless his powers of resistance to a call to the office prove greater than the rapidly accumulating force of public sentiment favoring him for the chief magistracy.

Definite decision was reached by the Cabinet at its session this forenoon that the Parliament should be convoked in extraordinary session next Tuesday to receive the resignation.

Aside from M. Millerand, the candidate who seems to be most favored to succeed President Deschanel continues to be Charles Jonnart, France's Special Ambassador to the Vatican.

Boom for Foch Over.

The boom for a military President, either Marshal Foch of Gen. De Castelnau, apparently has died out.

The Temps says that the accident which recently befell the President was similar to that of last May when he fell from a train. The President, while walking through the park in the early morning, the account says, stopped and chatted with a lone fisherman for a few moments and then continued his walk. He was about 50 yards distant when the fisherman was attracted by shouts for help.

He looked up and saw the President shoulder deep in water and mud.

The President, when he was rescued, said he had suffered a spell of dizziness.

Quiet Life Depressed Him.

Immediately after taking up his residence in the Palace of the Elysse, adds the Temps, President Deschanel became greatly depressed owing to a too abrupt change from an active life to a sedentary existence. After he leaves office, says the Temps, M. Deschanel is expected to retire to Antibes, near Monaco, and take prolonged rest.

M. Deschanel's valedictory is couched in most patriotic terms, and it is said that it probably will stir the National Assembly to the highest pitch of enthusiasm.

"Individuals pass on, but France remains," is said to be the burden of the message.

MOTHER AND DAUGHTER STRANGLED TO DEATH

Muskegon (Mich.) Physician, the Husband and Father, Held for Investigation.

By the Associated Press.

MUSKEGON, Mich., Sept. 17.—Dr. Otis W. Sedgewick of White Hall was brought to the county jail today, where he is held for investigation in connection with the deaths of his wife and 3-year-old daughter, whose bodies were found yesterday in front of the Sedgewick residence. The mother and baby, according to physicians, had been strangled.

Officers indicated an investigation into Dr. Sedgewick's sanity might be ordered. He had been ill for several days, it was said. Physicians who examined him upon his arrival here declared him to be in a state of mental and physical collapse. He is 40 years of age.

A search of the home, according to county authorities, indicated that a struggle had taken place in the physician's office, after which the bodies had apparently been dragged into the yard. The child was found in the mother's arms. The mother was fully dressed, while the little girl was in her night clothing.

Neighbors are caring for an infant which was found sleeping in its crib.

Dr. Sedgewick refuses to make a statement or discuss the tragedy. Officers are awaiting the arrival here of Dr. George D. Kilbourn of Forest Park, N. Y., father of Mrs. Sedgewick, and Herbert Sedgewick of New Haven, Conn., the doctor's brother, whom they believe will be able to aid in their investigation.

$350 MISSING AFTER MAN CALLS

Miss Emily Koenig, 32 years old, of 1802 Wash street, in reporting the theft of $350 and two rings, asked for the arrest of a man to whom, she said, she had been engaged to be married.

She said her fiance called on her yesterday and that while she was in the kitchen preparing lunch for him he left the house. Later, she said, she missed her money and rings from her room.

HEAVY CITY VOTE NEEDED TO CARRY ROAD BONDS

Meeting Finds Many County Judges Lukewarm on $60,000,000 Issue.

A heavy favorable vote in all of the cities of the State is necessary if Amendment No. 6 to the Missouri Constitution, authorizing the Legislature to issue $60,000,000 of road bonds and build 6000 miles of hard surface roads, is to carry at the November election, according to leaders and speakers at the meeting here in the American Theater of the Missouri Good Roads Federation. The meeting, which opened yesterday with more than 200 delegates present, representing all the congressional districts in the State, will close today.

This danger to the amendment arises from ignorance as to its provisions, it is said, and was emphasized by developments during sessions of the federation yesterday, when certain County Judges from rural districts indicated by their questions a lukewarm attitude toward the proposition. After they were assured that the money to pay interest and principal on the bonds is to come from automobile licenses, most of the reluctant ones took a more favorable view.

Harry B. Hawes, president of the federation, announced that all candidates for County Judge in the State will be placed on record as to the amendment before the election, and that those who oppose it likely will feel the displeasure of good-roads men on election day.

A number of speakers, including Arthur M. Hyde, Republican nominee for Governor, and former United States Senator Xenophon P. Wilfley, as the representative of John M. Atkinson, the Democratic nominee, addressed the road advocates at a dinner at Hotel Statler last night.

M. V. Carroll of Sedalia, secretary of the federation, and speakers representing the 14 State organizations which have indorsed the amendment, were on today's program.

County Judges from most of the counties of the State, who are to meet at the Chamber of Commerce in the afternoon in response to a call from Gov. Gardner, have been meeting with the road campaigners, as have many newspaper men here for the Missouri Press Association gathering. Probably 20 women delegates, headed by Mrs. R. A. Todd of Lebanon, representing the Missouri Federation of Women's Clubs, are at the meeting, and many of them have taken an active part in shaping campaign plans.

Will German-American Vote Be Organized For Harding?

The attempt of the German-American Citizens' League to organize German-American voters to prevent the election of Governor Cox to the Presidency is arousing lively interest in both camps. "The hyphen, that detestable phenomenon of American society, is again lifting its hydra-headed hideousness and discharging its venom," exclaims the Louisville Courier-Journal (Dem.). "There is evidence of a strong and highly organized pro-German movement in favor of the election of Senator Harding," declares the Indianapolis News (Ind.). Interpreting the resolutions passed by the German-American Citizens' League, George Sylvester Viereck, editor of The American Monthly, in the columns of his magazine declares that "The Democratic candidate is impossible. He is the candidate of Woodrow Wilson and the League of Damnations. The Republican candidate is distinctly the lesser of two evils. His speech of acceptance is not without merit."

On the other hand, Senator Harding, in a statement which the Democratic New York Times concedes to be "proper enough so far as it goes," warns these German-American supporters that they must not think of him as favoring any class or race among our citizens. Among other German-American papers that disavow a German-American vote is the St. Louis Westliche Post, which states that this paper "does not recognize any hyphen vote," and predicts that Americans of German descent will vote as any other American, "every one according to his own personal convictions as to which one of the two candidates stands higher for pure, unadulterated Americanism."

Batteries: New York—Thormahlen, Mays and Hannah; Chicago—Faber and Schalk. Umpires—Hildebrand and Moriarty.

COMISKEY PARK, CHICAGO, jammed to standing room when the White Sox and New York Yankees took the field for the second game of the series in the American League pennant race. The Yankees, driven out of the lead yesterday as a result of an 8-to-3 defeat, were out for revenge. "Babe" Ruth was trying for his fiftieth homer. He drove two balls into the bleachers during batting practice.

The batting order:

NEW YORK.	CHICAGO.
Peckinpaugh ss.	Strunk rf.
Pipp 1b.	Weaver 3b.
Ruth cf.	E. Collins 2b.
Pratt 3b.	Jackson lf.
Meusel rf.	Felsch cf.
Lewis lf.	J. Collins 1b.
Ward 2b.	Risberg ss.
Hannah c.	Schalk c.
Thormahlen p.	Faber p.

Umpires—Hildebrand and Moriarty.

FIRST INNING.

NEW YORK—Peckinpaugh flied to Strunk. Risberg and J. Collins retired Pipp. Ruth grounded to John Collins. NO RUNS, NO HITS.

CHICAGO—Pratt and Pipp took care of Strunk. Weaver fanned. Eddie Collins tripled down the right-field line and scored when Hannah muffed Meusel's throw. Jackson tripled to the same spot. Felsch followed with the third triple to right, scoring Jackson. J. Collins hit in front of the plate and was thrown out by Hannah. TWO RUNS, THREE HITS, ONE ERROR.

SECOND INNING.

NEW YORK—Felsch was under Pratt's fly. Meusel went out the same way. So did Lewis. NO RUNS, NO HITS, NO ERRORS.

CHICAGO—Risberg tripled to right center. Schalk fouled to Ward. Faber beat out a bunt, scoring Risberg. Strunk forced Faber, Pratt to Peckinpaugh, and was doubled at first. ONE RUN, TWO HITS, NO ERRORS.

THIRD INNING.

NEW YORK—Ward singled over second. Hannah doubled to right and scored with Ward on John Collins' wild throw. Thormahlen fanned. Peckinpaugh walked. Faber threw out Pipp. Faber purposely passed Ruth. Pratt forced Ruth, Risberg to Eddie Collins. TWO RUNS, TWO HITS, ONE ERROR.

CHICAGO—Mays now pitching for New York. Weaver beat out a hit to Pratt. E. Collins sacrificed, Mays to Pipp. Jackson was purposely passed. Felsch forced Jackson, Ward to Pratt, Weaver going to third. On an attempted double steal, Weaver was caught at the plate, Hannah to Mays to Hannah. NO RUNS, ONE HIT, NO ERRORS.

FOURTH INNING.

FIFTH INNING.

CHICAGO—Pratt threw out Strunk. Weaver flied to Lewis. Peckinpaugh threw out Eddie Collins. NO RUNS, NO HITS, NO ERRORS.

SIXTH INNING.

NEW YORK—Pipp flied to Jackson. Jackson caught Ruth's high fly. Pratt walked. On the hit and run, Meusel singled to right, sending Pratt to third. Lewis popped to Weaver. NO RUNS, ONE HIT.

CHICAGO—Jackson tripled to the right field fence. Felsch walked. John Collins flied to Lewis. Risberg singled to left, scoring Jackson and sending Felsch to third. Schalk was safe on Ward's error and Felsch and Risberg scored. Schalk was caught stealing, Hannah to Peckinpaugh. Mays took Faber's bounder and beat him to first. THREE RUNS, TWO HITS, ONE ERROR.

SEVENTH INNING.

NEW YORK—Weaver and John Collins retired Ward. Hannah doubled to left. Weaver threw out Mays. Risberg and John Collins retired Peckinpaugh. NO RUNS, ONE HIT.

CHICAGO — Pratt threw out Strunk. Weaver dropped a hit in center, but was out trying to stretch it into a double, Peckinpaugh to Pratt. Eddie Collins singled to center. Jackson flied to Meusel. NO RUNS, TWO HITS.

EIGHTH INNING.

NEW YORK—Pipp was easy for Risberg and John Collins. Ruth drove a long fly to Felsch. Pratt doubled to left. Meusel fanned. NO RUNS, ONE HIT.

ENTIRE NET TOURNEY MUST BE PLAYED OVER, NATIONAL BODY RULES

NEW YORK, Sept. 17.—For the first time in the history of American lawn tennis, the officials of the United States Lawn Tennis Association have ordered a tournament replayed.

That is the essence of the suggestion from Julian S. Myrick, president of the association, as to the New York State championship for women which came to a deadlock between Miss Marie Wagner and Miss Margaret Grove in the final round on the courts of the New York Tennis Club last June.

The difficulty at that time arose over the scheduling of the time for the playing of the final round for the title. Miss Grov failed to appear on the first date named and Miss Wagner on the subsequent date selected by the Board of Governors of the club. All efforts to get the two players together since has been without avail. This resulted in the National Association being asked to submit a ruling. To this request Myrick offered the following suggestion:

"It would be my suggestion inasmuch as Miss Wagner was arbitrarily placed in this draw, the draw was not made in accordance with the rules of the United States Lawn Tennis Association. I would therefore suggest that the original entries be redrawn as specified by the rules and the whole tournament replayed.

"According to our records the week beginning Sept. 27 is open and unless you have some other suggestion we will designate this week for the replaying of your tournament."

Posey and Crothers Tied.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Sept. 17.—W. W. Posey of Lancaster, and S. M. Crothers of Philadelphia, led the amateurs at the annual shoot of the Westy Hogans, each breaking 157 out of a possible 160. E. F. Sloar of Collingswood, N. J., and Fred Tomlin of Glassboro, N. J., led the professionals with scores of 157. E. F. Woodward of Houston, Tex., R. H. Bungy of Ocean Park, Cal., both amateurs, and Boyd Duncan of Chicago, a professional, dropped 156. Frank Bullmeyer, Cumberlain, Md., won the "Blackstone Special" by smashing 100 straight.

TRIOLET OF TWADDLE.

I CANNOT sing the songs of long ago,
Because the lyrics I've long since forgot—
Their inane words come tumbling in a row,
I cannot sing the songs of long ago.
They were the apotheosis of rot,
No wonder they so soon became detrop.
(Did Jimmy leave a line out here, or not?)
—James J. O'Connor in Philadelphia Public Ledger.

I DO not like the lyrics of today,
Because the meter's sadly out of line;
The music's not so bad, but, anyway,
I do not like the lyrics of today.
I'd rather hear a song like Auld Lang Syne
Than any modern ragtime, jazzy lay.
Yea, bo, the old-time melodies for mine—

CAN'T BE DONE.

Can you imagine your great-grandmother when she was the village belle singing, "Whaddaya Want to Make Them Eyes at Me For?" or, "Oh, How I Laughed When I Thought How I Cried About You."

"Police Investigating Fire Find Still and Whisky."—Head line. Probably thought that a good place to find firewater was at a fire.

Senator Harding, after watching Vardon and Ray play golf, pitched a game of horseshoes with a policeman. And there's the tiddlewink vote, Senator; don't forget that. Every little bit helps.

TOO TRUE.

Crying over spilled milk don't get nobody nowhere, but if the Pirates hadda hung onto Burleigh Grimes they would be further ahead of the field than the Dodgers are right now.

That young recruit, Lamb, ought to come in handy when a sacrifice is needed by the Browns.

In an emergency, Lamb can bat for Jimmy Burke's goat whenever that erratic animal happens to go astray.

SCATTER 'EM.

The Browns bunch their hits too much. Make 22 in one game and four or five in the next.

A REPEATER.

A CERTAIN old fellow named Gunn
Was presented one day with a son;
Observing his dad
This remarkable lad
Said, "Well, I'm a son-of-a-gun!"
JEMKAE.

ONE UP ON THE CAT.

See where a man in Texas died 10 times in a year, the tenth time proving fatal. His body ought to be placed on a cat-afalque.

Anybody who can shuffle off his mortal coil nine times before taking the final count is entitled to be called the king of "comebacks."

About 8000 emigrants are coming into Ellis Island daily. There's a place in the kitchen for you, Maggie.

A wise man once said, "a business is only as big as the men who direct it." That's true. Twenty-three years ago we established this business. Starting in a small way, we have developed until today we are the largest tailoring establishment in St. Louis, making men's suits and overcoats exclusively. When we were small we did big things in a big way. Our policy then was "Clothes That Fit" at LOW prices—and that's our policy today. It proved successful. The public always appreciates a "square deal."

Additional Sporting News

Kabakoff Faces Fleming in Go at Armory, Tonight

Ghetto Champion Will Attempt to "Come Back" in Feature Four-Round Event.

The National Sporting Club's four-round professional boxing program for tonight, at the First Regiment Armory, is unquestionably the most ambitious card yet arranged by Promoters Solari and Cornell.

Seven bouts, concluding with the Harry Kabakoff-Al Fleming match, are announced. Among the events arranged are several that should be productive of the liveliest kind of milling, if not the most scientific. None of the four-round affairs has lacked earnestness thus far, although much of the talent has been of the graduate-amateur variety.

The Kabakoff event is of unknown quality, so far as Fleming is concerned. Kabakoff has not been in the ring for months, but he should be able to step a lively gait for four rounds.

Fleming's record is supposed to be studded with knockouts of "bush" opponents. He is from Tulsa, Okla.

The bout will be interesting if only as showing Kabakoff's fitness for a "comeback." Kabby's last important bout was a draw with Young Chaney of Baltimore, in Detroit—a contest which dispatches said was the best event on an all-star card.

O'Donnell Meets a Hard Boiled Lad.

Mike O'Donnell, a graduate amateur, will be bucking up against an iron man in Bert Adams, the rugged East Side preliminary fighter who has appeared in several bouts here. O'Donnell can hit hard and if he is not nervous may give his more experienced rival a good contest. Stage fright might prevent his showing to good advantage.

The other bouts on the card are: Eddie Taylor vs. Oscar Joergens, 145 pounds; Young Dundee vs. Johnny Collins, 122 pounds; Morris Mickey vs. Al Cory, 135 pounds; Mike Waldman vs. Nat Nissie, and K. O. Brown vs. Jack Callahan.

All About Peewee Kaiser.

Peewee Kaiser will appear on the S. B. A. C. card next week.

"Scotty" Montieth, who brought Sergt. Ray Smith here for the Bob Martin contest at the Coliseum, saw Kaiser box, last Friday night, and said:

"This is positively the best little boy I have ever seen, considering the limited experience he has had. He has everything needed to make a good boy, if not sent out of his class before he gets professional poise. He can hit, can box, is cool and he showed he was game by the way he came back after getting a hard belt in the second round."

SEVERAL PIKER PLAYERS NOT YET IN UNIFORM FOR FOOTBALL PRACTICE

The Washington University football squad engaged in its first outdoor practice session, yesterday morning. The Piker candidates worked for about an hour and a half and then listened to their coach, George L. Rider, tell them a few things about the game.

A number of athletes reported for the first time, yesterday; but several of the veterans are still absent. Kraehe, Lippert, Shanley, Conzelman, and Grant have not yet been outfitted.

It was learned yesterday, that Roger Bailey, guard of the 1919 team, would not be able to play this year, because of illness. Bailey weighed 185 pounds last year and was an aggressive lineman. He will be missed.

MISS PEP WILL PLAY MRS. KOHN IN FINAL

Miss Virginia Pep and Mrs. R. J. Kohn are scheduled to play for the women's municipal golf championship over the nine-hole course at Forest Park, Sunday morning, at 9 o'clock, it was announced today.

East Meets West In Women's Final

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 17.—Miss Marion Zinderstein, Boston, and Miss Eleanor Goss, New York, the 1919 doubles champions will meet Miss Helen Baker and Miss Eleanor Tennant, of California, tomorrow at the Philadelphia Cricket Club, in the final round of the women's national tennis championship.

In the semifinal matches today Miss Zinderstein and Miss Goss defeated Mrs. George Wightman, Boston, and Mrs. Molla Bjurstedt Mallory, New York, 6—3, 2—6, 7—5, while Miss Baker and Miss Tennant triumphed over Miss Mollie Thayer and Miss Anna Townsend, Philadelphia, 6—4, 6—0.

Lawler Forced to Step Lively to Outpoint the Rugged Kid Bandy

St. Louis Boxer Has Better of His Opponent for Five Rounds, After Which His Omaha Rival Finishes Stronger — McMullen Easily Batters Charley Silver.

By John E. Wray.

Jack Lawler of Omaha and Kid Bandy of St. Louis each manifested an earnest desire to knock the other loose from his understanding in their bout at the Battery A drillyard last night; but after eight rounds of milling, during which Referee Heisner abetted their efforts at mayhem by prying the belligerents apart about every 10 seconds, the combined damage inflicted might have mashed a cream puff.

Owing to greater speed of hand, foot and thought, and to a wider experience, Lawler slightly outpointed his opponent and did the cleaner, better hitting after the fourth or fifth round; but the earnest Bandy camped on his trail like a Nemesis, from the opening bell, and tried hard to land a damaging blow.

To the surprise of those who admire Lawler, Bandy made a strong showing in the early rounds, the character of the fight considered. Many ringsiders thought the St. Louisan was going out of his class; but he made his flashy foe move at quickstep to keep out of trouble for more than half the bout. After that Lawler frequently got through Bandy's shell for hooks to the head and slams to the commissary department which gave him a margin.

No Visible Damage Inflicted.

The bout was devoid of cleanly-struck blows and open-face milling, such as St. Louis fans have learned to appreciate. It was a succession of rushes by Lawler, with Bandy stepping in to meet his foe. Following each rush one or the other or both clinched and Referee Hesiner, to make it a fight, constantly broke the men. No knockdowns were scored and there was nothing sanguinary about the contest at any stage.

While the points went to Lawler, the honors of the go really belong to Bandy, who stood up to his more experienced foe much better than he had been expected, especially since it was his third fight in a year and one fought with a right hand of which the kid was none too sure. Bandy did some surprisingly good work with his left, but sent home his right on several occasions.

Heisner on the Job.

The matchmakers of the St. Louis A. A. showed indiscretion in putting on Jack Crowley against Jack Callahan, in the curtain raiser. Crowley is a frail little boy, not even a youth, weighing only 80 pounds. Callahan seemed to weigh at least 20 pounds more, was larger and stronger in every way and had more experience. He also had a good, level head, for when he saw that Crowley was too frail for him he merely danced out of Crowley's reach and played with him. Referee Heisner stopped the bout in one round, when he saw the conditions.

Joe McMullen, who is winning popular favor with each bout here, gave Charley Silver a husky beating in the semi-windup. Silver appeared to fear the power of McMullen's blows and fought a play-it-safe bout throughout.

Norman Hoke was bleeding at the nose and mouth and wearing a yearning look in the one good eye left him when Eddie Meier, his chief second, caught the S O S signal and flung a towel in the ring, during the fifth round of Hoke's battle with the determined Meyer Bender. Referee Heisner promptly kicked the towel out of the ring and ordered Hoke to continue. Meier flung back the towel and again Heisner kicked it out. When Meier repeated the towel-slinging episode, the referee walked up to Hoke and asked if he desired to quit. Whereupon Hoke handed in his resignation.

The attendance showed the effect of too many local shows and the arena was only half-filled, although the attraction was considered good.

The show will probably be the last outdoor event of the season, as the South Broadway has announced its opening for next Tuesday, with "Peewee" Kaiser and Patsy Brennan of Cincinnati cast for the feature.

BATTERY A RESULTS

$50,000 PURSE OFFERED FOR 3-CORNERED RACE

MONTREAL, Sept. 17.—The Kenilworth Jockey Club, through its general manager, A. M. Orpen, has offered a purse of $50,000 and a gold cup for a match race between the famous race horses, Man o' War, Sir Barton and Exterminator, it was announced here today.

J. K. L. Ross, owner of Sir Barton, it was said, had accepted the offer. The race, if arranged, would be run at the Windsor Club track at the October meeting at a mile and a quarter.

STOCKS STRONG AT CLOSE; UPWARD SWING GENERAL

NEW YORK, Sept. 17.—The Evening Post, in its copyrighted financial review today, says:

"The Stock Exchange resumed business today with almost immediate continuance of the advance which was in progress yesterday when trading was suspended. There was some early irregularity, but this was followed by the aggressive bidding-up of prices for both railway and industrial stocks, which continued nearly up to the closing. Transactions were large and business widely distributed. The day's larger gains occurred in some of the speculative industrials, in which there were signs, both of renewed activity by professional 'pools,' and of repurchases by recent speculative sellers. As a whole, the day's net advances varied rather widely, but the upward tendency was general and the closing was strong.

Further Recovery in Exchange.

"Further recovery of 2⅝ cents from yesterday's closing brought sterling exchange 8 cents above the low price of Tuesday; it now rules at last Friday's level. French exchange advanced to a rate somewhat more than ¼ cent per franc above Tuesday's lowest. Today's weekly statement of the Bank of France showed a decrease of 50,097,000 francs in its gold reserve. The 20,006,000 decrease of the preceding week represented the $4,000,000 gold which was delivered last Saturday at New York; the present showing indicates that something like $10,000,000 more is due to arrive here within a day or two. To make the full $50,000,000 delivery expected against the Anglo-French loan payment, about $10,000,000 should be received here in each of the next three weeks.

"The week-end statement of wheat and flour exports showed shipments of 3,700,000 bushels more than in this week last year. Probably the full month's shipments will be 15,000,000 bushels above 1919, an increase in value of perhaps $40,000,000. Exports of cotton are going out at a monthly rate about $15,000,000 smaller in value than last September.

"The increase in yesterday's clearing house exchange at New York to $1,002,547,000, as against a recent daily average around $700,000,000, indicated the shifting of bank credits incident to Wednesday's income tax payments. Tomorrow's statements, both of the New York Associated Banks and of the New York Federal Reserve Bank, will be affected by these huge payments and the bank loans made in connection with them, and other large requisitions are ahead.

Business Situation.

"It is true, as yesterday's speech by the Governor of the Federal Reserve Board to the Cleveland Chamber of Commerce declared, that we have now passed out of 'the period of exhilaration or intoxication which characterized American business activities several months ago,' and that it is possible to say that 'the transition to a more normal basis is proceeding quietly and without alarming features.'

"But Mr. Harding also pointed out that loans are now expanding rapidly because of crop-moving requirements; that 'our money market is at present distinctly a lender's, and not a borrowers,' market, and that banks all over the country are having applications for loans which they cannot make. 'This would not seem to indicate any great relaxation between now and the year-end, or resumption of any lavish scale of bank loans for speculative purposes.'

"What will happen after the season of maximum requisitions on credit is over, we shall have to wait to learn. The rate for the longer-term loans on Stock Exchange collateral, and on commercial paper should be the first to indicate bankers' expectations. In the matter of prices generally, there is no visible change in the downward tendency; the decline of 14 per cent in the average 'index number' of commodities, up to the end of August, would have to carry the reckoning up to date. The past week's heavy decline in the whole grain markets shows the trend of things as clearly as the repeated reduction which is still being made on prices in the wholesale textile trade."

Foreign Exchange and Domestic Money

NEW YORK, Sept. 17.—Bids for large blocks of exchange on England, France and Italy were in the foreign exchange market again today, similar to those which were noted on Wednesday. Sterling continued its upward movement, making a further gain of 2 cents to 3.51¼, and that rate was bid by banking institutions for large amounts in the late afternoon. French also made a substantial advance and was in demand at the high range. German was exceptionally weak and without support at material concessions. Brazil yielded to a new low record.

Wall Street News and Comment —SPECIAL DAILY—

NEW YORK, Sept. 17.—No trace of yesterday's excitement appeared as the market reopened this morning. Business was resumed where it left off when the explosion happened yesterday noon. The buying movement then had obviously been on the increase and this tendency was fully sustained in the market today.

It was the broadest and most active session that Wall street has had since the turn for the better set in in the middle of August. Railway shares, both dividend payers and the nondividend speculative issues, were actively bought, but by no means dominated dealings as they have been doing on some recent days. Fully as much, if not more, interest was taken in the industrials and it was no longer a case of simply the oils or some other group monopolizing attention, but it was a fairly buoyant rise which included nearly all the representative issues. The short interest in the motors and related stocks which was unusually heavy and hitherto had not been much disturbed, was driven in summarily.

The Bond Market.

All sections of the bond market continued to feel the stimulus today of the easier conditions in the money market, especially the lowering of offers of time funds. This was taken to definitely confirm the impression formed some time ago that the peak of the money rise had been reached and that the tendency from now on would be gradually downward. In the Government section there were fractional advances in nearly all the leading issues, including Liberty bonds, United Kingdoms, Belgian 7½s and City of Paris 6s. Swiss 8s and French 8s were the only ones that were not affected, and they were unchanged. The market for the Swiss Governments continued to feel the profit-taking sales by dealers who had subscribed to the loan for speculative purposes, and were taking their point and a half to two points.

Railroad bonds made new highs along with the continued rise in railroad ... [illegible] members of the rail group were Baltimore & Ohio 6s, which got up to 89¾; Louisville & Nashville 7s at 102¼; Kansas City Southern 5s at 69½; St. Louis-Southwestern 5s at 63, and Erie convertibles, especially the D's, which sold up close to 50. All these were either at the previous top or through it.

The continued strength in Japanese issues was a feature as indicating the trend of sentiment regarding the outcome of the negotiations between Washington and Tokio over the ticklish California land question. The Japanese sterling 4s gained another point to 59, which meant a new high for the current movement.

Among the more speculative issues the Peoria & Eastern incomes and the Chicago & Eastern Illinois bonds were the features, the former making a new high at 31, where they were up a point from yesterday and 10 points from where they were selling less than a month ago.

Reading.

Reading was almost everywhere mentioned this morning in the advices sent out by commission houses. The stock had gone through its previous high yesterday and this had made a very favorable impression upon the trading element. Another thing which counted was the activity and advance in the second preferred stock, which was evidently based upon the possibility of the retirement of this issue when the Reading comes out with its segregation plan. Under the Reading charter the second preferred stock is retirable half into common and half into first preferred. If there is anything in the retirement theory, the stock at its present price would be obviously selling far out of line.

As for the first preferred, this can be redeemed at any time at the par of $50, and one of the interesting incidents today was the advance in this stock, which has been selling around 41 and 42 for some time, to 45, that is, to within five points of the retirement figure. The gossip already set forth here about the Reading deal has it that the second preferred will first be converted fifty-fifty into common and first preferred and then the latter issue retired altogether. This would clear the way for Reading common. As for the segregation plan itself, the speculative view is that it will be hastened by the similar project of the D. L. & W., which, it is known, has been adopted and only awaits the approval of the Interstate Commerce Commission to be carried out.

Fair Business Done in Wool.

BOSTON, Sept. 17.—The Commercial Bulletin tomorrow will say:

"Reports from the goods markets are rather conflicting but seem to indicate that a fair business has been done by some of the principal mills on the better types of worsted cloths. This would seem to be indicated also in moderate sales of wool for cloths of this description. The demand for goods seems to be reviving slowly, although the trade is hopeful that presently it will increase very considerably."

COTTON GENERALLY QUIET; DECEMBER UP IN AFTERNOON

NEW YORK, Sept. 17.—The buying movement which had been in progress before the Wall Street explosion of yesterday was renewed at the opening of the cotton market this morning. This found encouragement in the steady showing of Liverpool, the firmer ruling of the stock market and talk of a gradual improvement in the demand for goods. First prices were 8 to 38 points higher and active months sold 40 to 62 points above last night's closing figures before the end of the first hour. October was relatively firm on reports that nearly half the small stock of cotton ready for delivery on contracts here was to be shipped out, and there also seemed to be a little more confidence in the immediate ruling of the southern spot markets. The weather in the south continued favorable, however, while the week-end trade reviews of prominent western goods distributers were disappointing, and there were reactions later in the morning. At the same time sellers lacked the aggressiveness shown recently, and the undertone was steady, with the better average of sentiment reflected in frequent bulges. One of the cables received here this morning said that Manchester was dead, more mills stopping, and that sentiment was still bearish. This seemed in contrast with the relatively steady ruling of the Liverpool market, and houses with Liverpool connections were moderate buyers here during the early trading.

The mid-morning advance extended to 28.59 for October and 25.97 for December, or about 40 to 62 points above last night's closing figures on the more active positions. There was enough realizing to check the upward movement at these figures and cause reactions of 15 or 20 points, but trading was quiet late in the morning and the market ruled steady around midday. Manchester cables reported business dull with more mills stopping and there was probably some selling on prospects for continued fair weather in the South.

No fresh feature developed in the early afternoon and business was generally quiet with prices ruling around 25.80 for December or about 36 points net higher. North Carolina wires reported a better spot demand with the basis steadier.

Cotton futures closed steady: October, 28.70; December, 25.87; January, 24.67; March, 23.65; May, 23.13.

CURB TONE FIRM; LEADING ISSUES SCORE ADVANCES

NEW YORK, Sept. 17.—Advances were recorded on the Curb Market today and the tone was firm. There was a good demand as soon as trading started and, as the supply was limited, the leading issues immediately moved into higher ground. Professional traders were more active on the buying side in the early dealing and profit-taking on these purchases caused small reactions at times, but prices generally were well maintained above the previous closing figures.

Considerable discussion was heard in connection with the orderly manner in which the market acted. There were no signs of manipulation such as were seen in recent months during strong sessions and the indications were that there were no attempts to bid up prices, the values moving entirely under the control of demand and supply.

Standard Oil of Indiana rose over 10 points on small buying orders "at the market." White Oil continued in good demand around yesterday's highest. International Petroleum moved up a substantial fraction, but eased in the later trading. Fractional advances were recorded in Simms, Ryan Consolidated, Tropical Skelly, Pennok, Merritt, Producers & Refiners and a number of others.

General Asphalt was in good demand, scoring a sharp upturn. Indian Packing was purchased in fair lots and moved up a fraction. Aetna Explosives developed pronounced strength, advancing about a point. Todd Shipbuilding moved over a range of 2½ points. United Profit Sharing was heavy and reactionary. British-American Tobacco, after a show of firmness, eased slightly on moderate selling orders.

The bond list was heavy on moderate selling.

WHEAT RULES STRONG BUT CORN PRICES OFF

Wheat closed strong on the Merchants' Exchange today, after an irregular day. Cash prices were steady to higher. Corn prices were down at the finish, while oats were steady. Reports of export business advanced wheat prices.

Strength of wheat futures featured the trading in the fore part of the session. The export situation was the basis of the advance in this quarter. The buying was overdone, however, and prices fell back about halfway before noon.

Corn was held up for a time by the strength of wheat but soon reacted. There was some selling on report that there were sales of corn at Iowa port at 85 cents for new and $1 for old grain. The weather conditions favor the corn crop. Chicago reported early sales of cash corn at 2c under yesterday.

Oats prices were not largely altered in the early trading. December oats showed the best undertone.

Receipts today were 174,000 bushels of wheat, including 95 cars local and 50 cars through; corn, 79,300 bushels, including 56 cars local and 5 cars through; oats, 60,000 bushels, including 28 cars local and 2 cars through. Hay, 1005 tons, including 754 tons local and 251 tons through.

Cash Grain Prices

ST. LOUIS MERCHANTS' EXCHANGE, Sept. 17.—Cash wheat steady to 1c higher; corn 1c to 4c lower; oats steady to ½c lower. Sales: No. 1 red winter wheat, $2.62; No. 2 red winter wheat, $2.61@2.63; No. 3 red winter wheat, $2.57@2.58; No. 2 hard wheat, $2.48; No. 3 hard wheat, $2.46.

EXPORT INTERESTS BUY WHEAT; CORN IS WEAK

December and May Corn Touch Lowest Points of Season.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

CHICAGO, Sept. 17.—There was quite a flurry in wheat prices during the first 10 minutes of the session as a result of short covering on stop-loss orders. Thereafter trade quieted down with persistent buying noted by export interests. This caused the market to exhibit firmness in face of the extreme weakness in corn. There was a good domestic milling demand for wheat and good export business was reported at the seaboard with 320,000 bushels worked at the gulf and 10 to 15 loads at Atlantic ports in addition to 200,000 bushels of Manitoba. Receipts were light. The market showed advances of 4¼c to 5c; December at $2.42@2.42¼ and March $2.37@2.37½.

New Lows on Corn.

Corn had a little rally late in the session because of short-covering for profits but the market exhibited much weakness, with December and May reaching the lowest points of the season. Liquidation by country longs both of cash and futures was the depressing factor. Omaha houses reported purchases of old corn to arrive in Iowa at $1 a bushel and that they had new corn offered them at 85c. Receipts were heavy. Cash corn was 3c lower. Shipping sales, 50,000 bushels. The market closed 1c to 1¾c lower; September, $1.29@1.28¾; December $1.10¼@1.10, and May $1.10½@1.10¼.

Oats Are Irregular.

Weakness in corn caused pressure on oats and lowest points of the season were established early. The market rallied at the finish on profit-taking by shorts and buying inspired by reports of export business at the seaboard, the first in months, five loads being taken. Cash premiums were unchanged. Shipping sales were 75,000 bushels. The market was ¼@¼c lower. September, 60¾c; December, 63⅝@63¾c, and May 66⅝@66¾c.

Nearby deliveries in provisions were strong on buying by cash interests. The break in January lard was in sympathy with corn. Pork closed 10c higher, lard 47c up to 17½c down and ribs 15c up.

HOG PRICES CONTINUE TO RISE, REACHING $17.90

NATIONAL STOCK YARDS, Ill., Sept. 17.—Today's estimated receipts: Cattle and calves, 3000; hogs, 7000; sheep, 1700; horses and mules, 100.

CATTLE—There was an indifferent demand for cattle today and despite relatively small receipts, market was a slow, draggy affair. Native and western steers were steady to 25c lower in spots. Butcher cattle were dull and barely steady on canners, medium cows and plain yearlings. Veal calves about steady, with top of $17.75.

HOGS—Early trading at the hog house was characterized by a dull, uncertain feeling and trade was distinctly nervous, few sales being made up to a rather late forenoon hour. Report later of a sharply higher market at Chicago caused buyers to become fairly aggressive and prices in many cases were 5 to 10 cents higher, whereas the first few sales were hardly steady. Top moved up a notch, touching $17.90, which is a record for the year to date. Bulk of the hogs sold from $17.60@17.85.

SHEEP—Prices were practically the same as were paid yesterday for sheep and lambs. Best lambs sold at $13, with fat mutton sheep at $6.50. Receipts today were 1700, giving a supply of 14,348 for the week, or a 35 per cent increase over last week's supply for the corresponding five days.

HORSES—The usual light Friday trade prevailed at the horse barns and no material change in the market was evidenced. There has been a lower undertone to selling here this week.

MULES—The few mules moved today sold about in line with previous days this week. Runs have not been large the present season and, although action has been fair, there has been no advance in values over the preceding week.

Metal Market.

NEW YORK, Sept. 17.—Copper dull; electrolytic, spot, September and October, 18½@19. Iron, firm, prices unchanged. Tin, steady; spot and nearby, 44.75; futures, 42.50; antimony, 7.25. Lead, quiet; spot, 8.25@8.50. Zinc, steady; East St. Louis delivery, spot, 7.75@8.

At London: Copper, spot, £99 2s 6d; futures, £99; electrolytic, spot, £112; futures, £118. Tin, spot, £277 6s 2d; futures, £... 12s 6d. Lead, spot, 35 15s; futures, 35 ... Zinc, spot, £39 12s 6s; futures, £40 17s 6d.

Shame on Them.

PERHAPS there are a few mothers who do not know the virtues of Fletcher's Castoria. Perhaps there are a few who know that there are imitations on the market, and knowing this demand Fletcher's. It is to ALL motherhood then that we call attention to the numerous imitations and counterfeits that may be set before them.

It is to all motherhood everywhere that we ring out the warning to beware of the "Just-as-good". For over thirty years Fletcher's Castoria has been an aid in the upbuilding of our population; an aid in the saving of babies.

And yet there are those who would ask you to try something new. Try this. Try that. Even try the same remedy for the tiny, scarcely breathing, babe that you in all your robust womanhood would use for yourself. Shame on them.

Children Cry For Fletcher's CASTORIA

Your Friend, the Physician.

The history of all medicines carries with it the story of battles against popular beliefs: fights against prejudice: even differences of opinion among scientists and men devoting their lives to research work; laboring always for the betterment of mankind. This information is at the hand of all physicians. He is with you at a moments call be the trouble trifling or great. He is your friend, your household counselor. He is the one to whom you can always look for advice even though it might not be a case of sickness. He is not just a doctor. He is a student to his last and final call. His patients are his family and to lose one is little less than losing one of his own flesh and blood.

Believe him when he tells you—as he will—that Fletcher's Castoria has never harmed the littlest babe, and that it is a good thing to keep in the house. He knows.

MOTHERS SHOULD READ THE BOOKLET THAT IS AROUND EVERY BOTTLE OF FLETCHER'S CASTORIA

This is the way to tell a McElwain Shoe

IT'S a good idea to look twice at a shoe before you buy—at the top for the style; and then at the sole to find the McElwain name.

You can profit by that habit as millions of men and boys have profited.

For this is the McElwain idea:

Maintain offices in the great hide markets of the world, and so secure quality hides at a quantity price. Tan them in McElwain tanneries. And make each separate part of the shoe in a separate factory, with experts who are trained for that task and for that task alone.

Little savings in each separate process of the manufacture mount into large savings by the time the shoe reaches you. Millions of men and boys have discovered that truth about McElwain Shoes. Have you?

MAZOLA

A Demonstration of Real Economy: 2 lbs. of Mazola Fried 208 Doughnuts—2 lbs. of Lard Fried Only 138

MRS. A. LOUISE ANDREA—awarded the gold medal at the Panama-Pacific Exposition as lecturer on food and culinary topics—in a comparative test recently fried 208 doughnuts in 2 lbs. of Mazola, while only 138 could be fried in the same amount of lard.

At the same time this expert fried 24½ lbs. of potatoes in 2 lbs. of Mazola, as against 7 lbs. 14 ozs. fried in 2 lbs. of lard.

Also, she fried 25¾ lbs. of fish steak, cut to a uniform thickness of one inch, in 2 lbs. of Mazola. Two lbs. of lard fried only 16½ lbs. This means that Mazola is from twice to more than three times more economical to use than lard, on the basis of actual accomplishment.

In each test, 4 lbs. each of Mazola and lard were fried down to 2 lbs.

This confirms the experience of the seven million housewives who already use Mazola, the Great American Cooking Oil.

Further than this, because Mazola is a 100% pure vegetable oil there is no loss from evaporation, nor no loss of bulk from heating. It remains sweet and clean, and can be used over and over again—merely strain it.

ANSWERS TO QUERIES

As we have no information bureau, it is impossible to answer queries by mail or telephone. Query for Sunday must be mailed a week beforehand.

A BOY.—Public night schools opened Sept. 14.

F. KELSO.—"Telephone numbers 25 and 35" is correct.

A. M. K.—Friction may cause sparks, which might ignite the gasoline.

A. W. C.—A church wedding for a divorced couple is a matter of church regulation, some churches permit it, others do not.

LAW.—The ruling of the Prohibition Commissioner regarding the manufacture of wine for home consumption appeared in full in the Post-Dispatch of July 29.

M. S. S.—Moving picture producers will accept hand writen manuscripts, but typewritten ones are probably preferred. Consult the moving picture magazines for the addresses you desire.

WORRIED.—No doubt your lawn has been invaded by the army worm, which mows the grass to the roots. Spray the grass with arsenate of lead, as this preparation is rapidly fatal to the worms.

PARLE-VOUS.—Coal oil will remove rust from nickel plate. If the rust is very bad a scrub brush is best for the first rubbing. Then use a cloth dampened with ammonia and sapolio to brighten the nickel. Persistent polishing is necessary.

JOE THANKFUL.—The 1918 American Church membership data, compiled by H. K. Carroll, LL. D., for the Christian Herald, N. Y., shows as follows: Baptists, 7,213,922; Lutherans, 2,443,812; Methodists, 7,579,311, Presbyterians, 2,259,358; Protestant Episcopal, 1,082,312; Roman Catholics, 14,927,466. There are many other religious sects which we have not mentioned.

A. G. A.—The following is a recipe for stuffed eggplant: Cook the eggplant in boiling salted water to cover. Cut a slice from the top, and with a spoon remove the pulp, taking care not to work too close to the skin. Chop the pulp, and add one cup soft stale bread crumbs. Melt two tablespoons butter, add one-half tablespoon finely chopped onion, and cook five minutes, or try out three slices of bacon, using bacon fat in place of butter. Add this to the chopped pulp and bread, season with salt and pepper, and if necessary moisten with a little stock or water; cook five minutes, cool slightly, and add one beaten egg. Refill the eggplant, cover with buttered bread crumbs, and bake 25 minutes in a hot oven.

PERMANENT READER.—1. The area of St. Louis, Mo., is 61.37 square miles. The following cities are greater in area: Chicago, Ill., 199.37 square miles; Cincinnati, O., 72 square miles; Detroit, Mich., 79.62 square miles; Duluth, Minn., 67.3 square miles; Kansas City, Mo., 69 square miles; Los Angeles, Cal., 365 square miles; New Orleans, La., 198.14 square miles; New York City, 307.8 square miles; Oakland, Cal., 63 square miles; Philadelphia, Pa., 129.5 square miles; Portland, Ore., 66.3 square miles; San Diego, Cal., 77 square miles; Seattle, Wash., 64.5 square miles; Washington, D. C., 69.2 square miles. 2. We do not undertsand the question. 3. You can get paper on which to print pictures from the photo supply houses.

LEGAL INFORMATION.

P.-D. READER.—The raid was not legal, but you have no remedy.

NON DE BIRD.—You do not have to register in Illinois for taking a trade name.

IDA.—If the check is marked "Paid" it is a receipt as against the persons who collected it.

LESTER L.—He can bring a suit for divorce in the county in which he resides at the time he files the suit.

MRS. I. P.—The War Risk Insurance can be drawn in a lump sum. Write to the War Risk Insurance Bureau, Washington, D. C., and get a new policy.

MUCH PUT OUT.—It is against the law to steal ideas contained in another person's scenario. We would advise you to hire a lawyer if you can; if you cannot, consult Free Legal Aid Bureau.

THE POOR RENTER.—Address the Missouri Tenants' League, 2007 Park avenue. You might also go to the Free Legal Aid Bureau, at the City Hall, for help.

B. J. S.—A child by a former marriage cannot claim a share of the property if it is bought and title taken in the husband's and wife's names as joint tenants, or tenants by the entirety.

MRS. LUX.—Deed the home, which is in your own name, to some third person, and have that person deed it back to you and your husband jointly. You had better have an agent or lawyer for the transaction.

LANDLORD.—You cannot sue him out, or hold his furniture for back rent. The tenant is entitled to a month's notice to vacate. You cannot raise his rent without his consent, but you can give him a month's notice to move.

MEDICAL QUESTIONS.

(Answers prepared by a physician of authority. Health and sanitation questions of public interest only will be considered. Diagnoses or treatment of individual cases will not be given. Questions that cannot be publicly discussed, if showing evidences of sincerity, will be answered when accompanied by stamped envelope.)

SAD RUTH.—The only possibility for the correction of the shape of your nose is by surgical procedure. If you will send a stamped and addressed envelope, repeating your question, we may be able to help you.

H. G. S.—We would advise you to call on the District Supervisor, U. S. Public Health Service, in the Octagonal Building, at the western terminus of the Delmar-Olive car line. He will give you information on this subject.

W. H. W.—There is not now, nor has there been, any Dr. Daves, or Davis, connected with the St. Louis Tuberculosis Society. There are a number of Mr. Davises in the city. See the Physicians' classified list in the back of the telephone directory.

READER.—Anything which disturbs the general health would cause puffiness and swelling about the eyes. It is often associated with some derangement in the kidneys. You had better see a physician and obtain a thorough examination.

SAM KATZ.—A psychosis is any disease or disorder of the mind. It is qualified in a number of ways to indicate the condition of mind, for instance, toxic psychosis, a disorder of the mind due to toxic poisoning; zoophil psychosis, in which there is an insane interest in, or affection for animals; anxiety psychosis, a disorder of the mind characterized by anxiety and depression, etc.

WORRIED.—In the condition of the jaw you describe there is no doubt some diseased bone. It does not pain because likely there is sufficient drainage to allow the discharge to escape. Such a condition will, no doubt, continue until all the diseased bone has been removed. Either a dentist or a surgeon could rectify such a condition. It may be possible that a fragment of the tooth has been left; if so, it would cause the same symptoms.

IMPROVED TELEPHONE SERVICE

WANT ADVERTISERS should no longer experience delays in getting connection with the Post-Dispatch by phone.

The recent installation of a new switchboard brings the capacity of the Post-Dispatch exchange up to a total of 960 3-minute messages per hour or 7680 in an 8-hour day—more than ample to accommodate the volume of business anticipated for the balance of the year.

Should advertisers or others, in spite of this enlarged equipment, experience delays at any hour of the day, they will confer a favor on the management by promptly reporting the fact.

CAUTION: The closing hour for Want Ads for the week day editions is 10:30 a. m., the Sunday 9:30 p. m. Saturday. Advertisers to be assured of prompt, efficient service should not wait until the closing hour.

The aim of the Post-Dispatch is to render SERVICE in all that the name implies—satisfactory service, but it can do so only with the help of its ADVERTISERS whose best interests will be conserved by GETTING THEIR ADS IN EARLY.

Try a three-time ad. Results almost certain for anything. Money refunded on unused insertions. Call Olive or Central 6600—or send the ad to a drug store or to the Main Office.

"Buying a Used Car With Safety"

Do you know the difference between a USED car and an ABUSED car?

If you DO NOT you are like thousands of other laymen.

If you lack the necessary technical knowledge to BUY RIGHT, your purchase of what you deem a carefully USED car may result in your getting one so badly ABUSED that you will regret the "bargain" bitterly.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE.

Discrediting Private Ownership.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

Your editorial and cartoon of Sept. 9 in reference to the decision in the Richard McCulloch burglary case struck the nail on the head. It is decisions such as this that bring the law and the courts into disrepute. That law which sends hungry men to long terms of imprisonment for stealing food and spares the head of a large corporation who plundered the people cannot stand without radical amendment.

In fact, such decisions teach the people more clearly that only by making public utilities public property can they end privilege in courts and other high places. The private owners always have a hostile and disdainful view of public rights. In contrast to the claim that public petitions have no value, they set up absurd values on their own properties. In New Jersey, under the inspiration of the American Electric Railways Association, they even claim the "created value" which they say they have given the community, by reason of doing business there. The moral is easy to draw.

Signs Not Complete.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

Do you notice all the signs around town, "Don't Jay-Walk; Cross at Crossing"? This is no doubt a good idea, but they don't say a word about joyrides and reckless chauffeurs. Even if you do cross at crossings, most of these wild and careless drivers nearly get you. Are our streets for poor people who have to walk, or do they belong to the auto owners?

PEDESTRIAN.

A Tribute.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

Sir: The passing of Terence MacSwiney, the Lord Mayor of Cork, will add one more name to Ireland's illustrious martyrs. The young gentleman's piety and Christian fortitude in facing death will, we have no doubt, be spoken of charitably by Christian people in the coming ages and be emulated by others of his countrymen whenever the occasion demands the sacrifice. Irishmen have, in the past, bared their breasts to the sharpened steel of the swordsman, and their backs to the lead-en-loaded cat-o'-nine-tails of the thongman, their brains to the bullets of the gunman and their necks to the hempen noose of the hangman, and to their undying credit be it said, their last and only regret was that they had but one life to sacrifice for the freedom of their country. Whether it was the great and sainted churchman and Bishop, Right Rev. Oliver Plunket, or the eloquent and noble youth, Robert Emmet; the great statesman and diplomat, Roger Casement, or the brilliant and courageous Terence MacSwiney, their sincerity in the justness of Ireland's cause and complacency at the end were all the same. Death had no terrors for them. They had made their peace with their God and Savior. Their consciences were right and didn't trouble them. Their only crime the love they bore their native land. They could not endure tyranny. Noble martyrs, great patriots, true Irishmen, peace to their ashes, and may the light of Heaven shine upon their souls.

Atrophy.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

Passing by a once noted hostelry (now tenantless) recently, I noticed that decay was setting in in every nook and cranny. Atrophy has become its custodian. Much better, indeed, to have families with romping children inhabit it, rent free, than to see it crumble away in uselessness.

STROLLER.

Woman and Her Age.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

I'll admit I can find no reason in logic why women should ever object to telling their age, and my own solution is that it is the result of innate prejudice inherited from generations of women who have gone before.

Nevertheless, the prejudice does exist, and I want to register an expression of disapproval at the manner in which this subject is being handled at the various precinct booths.

Other states have ruled that the question is sufficiently answered by the simple statement "over 21," and which we women accepted without protest, the decision of the Election Board that age must be stated specifically, we certainly were not prepared for the crude manner in which it was announced at the registration booth.

Heretofore I have always been greatly amused at the hesitancy of women stating their age and yesterday realized for the first time that I was sensitive on the subject, because for the first time I heard it shouted from the housetops.

Will I register next time? I doubt it, unless the process is adapted to the prejudice which, while perhaps unfounded, nevertheless exists.

My suggestion is that the age be written on the slip at the same time one writes one's name for the clerk. This suggestion is made not for the purpose of continuing encouragement of a seemingly foolish prejudice, but to circumvent it in a way that will encourage, rather than prevent, registration.

A NEW CITIZEN.

ACCIDENT OR DESIGN?

Whether the explosion in Wall street was an accident or the result of a plot has not yet been determined. There is evidence pointing to both conclusions, but so far no convincing evidence or clear clew.

If the explosion was designed it was an act of diabolism almost unparalleled in the annals of terrorism. There was no objective except general terrorism. The bomb was not directed against any particular person or property. It was directed against the public, anyone who happened to be near or any property in the neighborhood. If it was intended to terrorize Wall street it missed all the big Wall street targets and hit the irresponsible toilers of Wall street. It missed the financiers and speculators and hit the stenographers, clerks, messengers—the humble folk of Wall street—and the chance passer-by. It destroyed public and private property.

The circumstances of the explosion were so lacking in evidence of intelligent motive and objective and were so destructive of property and persons, without reason, that normal minds could conceive of nothing but accident as the cause; but the evidence of design points to the imperative duty of the authorities to find those who were responsible for the outrage.

The Department of Justice now has something specific upon which to work. Assuming design, here is terrorism of the worst kind. Here is blind and bloody anarchism. Here is a menace to law and order and life and property. Men who would commit a crime of this kind have not only a contempt for law, but are devoid both of conscience and of humanity. State and national authorities should join forces in solving this horrible mystery.

Between the theory of criminal carelessness and of diabolical crime the case calls for unceasing search, regardless of labor and expense, for the actual cause. The responsibility must be placed. Accident would be bad enough, but design—justice hungers for men who would design such terrorism.

TWO "LEGAL" DECISIONS.

There are two interesting court decisions in the news of the day. One was that of Judge Orin Patterson at Springfield, Mo., who held that breaking into a safe and stealing referendum petitions is not burglary and larceny, according to the letter of the law in such cases made and provided. The other was that of Justice Ben Lautz of Belleville, Ill., who held that increasing the rent from $11 to $50 was wrong and therefore illegal per se, even if there was no letter of the law in such cases made and provided.

It is probable that, under the rule of hair-splitting technicalities that determines the construction of the law, a higher court would decide that the Springfield Judge is correct, if not right, and that Justice Lautz is incorrect, even though right. But anyone can guess what would happen if there was a referendum on the decisions of Judge Patterson and Justice Lautz.

Respect for the law is a beautiful thing, but construction of the law that commands respect is more beautiful.

Anyhow, you don't hear anybody accusing Gov. Cox of using weasel words.

GET BEHIND THE GOOD ROADS.

Fourteen organizations have indorsed the proposed $60,000,000 bond issue for good roads, among them being the American Legion, the State Federation of Labor and the State Bankers' Association.

Such indorsement shows the breadth of public sentiment back of this project. The same point was given reassuring emphasis earlier in the week by the action of the two major political parties in pledging their support in their platforms.

It would be a fatal mistake, however, to relax efforts in behalf of this proposal or to become overconfident because of no apparent opposition. Maj. Hawes pointed out to the convention of the Missouri Good Roads Federation that of 54 amendments submitted in recent years, only two have carried. That is a formidable percentage to face, but it must be faced and overcome.

As a part of the fight for good roads it might be well for every organization in the State to go on record for the adoption of this amendment. Possibly in every organization there are members opposed to it. They are not opposed to good roads—that day is gone—but are opposed to this plan. Discussion will bring out their objections and the answers to those objections. Discussion will convince those sincerely wishing to be convinced, and it will speed up the enthusiasm and stimulate the energy of everybody.

This plan for building 6000 miles of hard-surfaced roads in Missouri, it should be said, is the product of good, hard thinking by men who have specialized somewhat on good roads, have investigated the work of other states and have undertaken to give to Missouri the benefits of the country's road-building experience. The plan promises magnificent results and it puts the costs on those best able to pay.

The organizations of the State, religious, fraternal, industrial, educational and social, ought all to get behind this movement to put Missouri on the right road to a richer life, richer not only in a material sense, but in the truer sense of happiness.

INDEPENDENCE IN POLITICS.

One of the most disappointing of Mr. Harding's utterances relates to independent voting. The advice which, as an experienced political leader, he had to give to the president of a women's campaign organization declared that "too much is heard of independence in politics." He would not urge that those remain passive whose "consciences separate them from their allegiances," but "the fashion of parading independence is to be deplored."

Thus spoke a candidate who, believing his party to be superior numerically to its opponents', fancies that the sure path to success is found in admonishing its members to vote her straight.

The ideal citizen, according to Mr. Harding, is not the one who makes his vote an act of comparison and exercise of judgment—who gives his support after studying conditions, appraising needs, contrasting records, investigating merits and reaching the soundest conclusion of which he is capable as to the party and the candidates who promise the most valuable service to the greatest number of Americans.

The really ideal citizen, according to Mr. Harding, is the one who blindly votes the ticket, assuming, of course, that it is the Republican ticket. To be sure, when things get so putrid that this ideal citizen's conscience will not permit him to vote the ticket, it may be permissible to split it, but those times are infrequent. An unthinking habit of voting the ticket, once acquired, seldom has any interference from conscience.

The self-interest that dictates this advice should not be lost sight of. It is deplorable advice to be given by a leader to the women of the country on the threshold of new responsibilities.

Mr. Warren G. Harding to the contrary notwithstanding, it is to the independent voter that the brightest political achievements of the past are to be credited and on whom the surest hope of future accomplishments rests.

Because of the independent voter's obstinacy in refusing to support unfit candidates and parties committed to unwise policies, the fellows who counsel voting her straight have been compelled to put up fit candidates and turn to policies of safety and public benefit.

Because at the polls he penalized inefficiency, the party leaders have reluctantly been forced to look to efficiency in their service.

Because he revolted from iniquitous records, office holders and their partisan sponsors have been compelled to take heed as to what they did and as to what they countenanced.

More should be heard of independence in politics, not less. Rational independence in voting is the more to be paraded, not to be decried. The best citizens, men or women, are those who take into public affairs the same intelligence and discrimination and critical attitude as to quality of service which they ordinarily adopt as guides in private affairs.

Unless the women adopt the rule of reason and independent judgment in voting, they are going to disappoint expectation, are going to disappoint themselves.

"THE WORK OF 500 MINDS."

The League of Nations, Gov. Cox pointed out in a speech at Walla Walla, Wash., is the product of certainly "no less than 500 of the best minds in all the civilized nations." Among the authors Mr. Cox included former President Taft, whose four amendments were adopted; former Justice Hughes, who suggested seven amendments, five of which were accepted, and Elihu Root, who proposed six amendments, the substance of five of which was incorporated into the covenant.

Another American name that Mr. Cox might properly have mentioned in connection with the League's authorship is Theodore Roosevelt. For the covenant undertakes what Roosevelt said would be a "master stroke"—namely, a concert of nations committed to peace and providing the means to enforce its decrees.

The partisan political opposition to the League of Nations defines the instrument as "Wilsonism." Their hatred of the President is openly professed. With that the public need not be concerned. But the impression they seek to give, that the covenant is solely the work of Wilson is absurdly wrong. "We fight Wilsonism," exclaimed Senator Lodge the other day, but that is not true. In fighting Wilsonism the enemies of the covenant are fighting the work of 500 of the best minds in the world.

That isn't all. In fighting the League of Nations Mr. Harding and his comrades in the battalion of death are fighting the hope of the world. The world is weary of war. It is "tired of tears and treasons." It dreams of a just and lasting peace. The League of Nations is the one practical method yet devised which promises the consummation of that dream.

That is what the enemies of Wilsonism are fighting.

CAST.

The Queen of the Kitchen.
The Despairing Wife.
The Meek Husband.
Chester—A Minion.

Scene—Anywhere, any home. Time—Right now.

(Enter a fat lady wearing a leopard skin coat, a six-foot pearl necklace and platinum shoes.)

F. L. (haughtily): My secretary informs me that you are in need of a culinary artist.

Wife (severely shocked): Wh-wh-what?

Hubby (sinking into chair): My-y gosh!

F. L. (calls): Chester! Oh, Chester! Come hither!

F. L.: Chester, is this the right abode?

Ches. (turning pages): Er—yes, my lady.

Hubby (now alert): So beated! We have all the latest comforts, plumbing, heating, electric lights, concrete fixtures, plush furniture, fireless cooker, easy access to street car and suburban lines, movie theater in walking distance, wonderful view, southern exposure——

F. L.: How often do you eat?

Wife and Hubby: Once a month.

F. L.: You'll do.

F. L.: Chester, fetch my luggage—oh, and Chester——

Ches.: Yes, your worship?

F. L.: Remind me to buy a roadster. The limousine is too cumbersome and is ready for cold storage.

Ches.: Very well, your honor. (Exit.)

Hubby (opening check book): Er—ah—ahem?

F. L. (yawning): Oh, 75,000!

Hubby (aside to wife): Cheap enough!

F. L.: Oh, by the way, how many did you say there were in the family?

Hubby (nervously): We eat seldom——

Wife: And very little then——

Chorus: There's just the two of us! (Nervous laugh.)

F. L.: Two? But I can't work for two—one of you will have to jump in the river, I'm afraid.

Hubby: We couldn't do that, could we, Clementine?

Wife: Out of the question, Ethelbert!

F. L.: I bid you good day. (Exits.) Chester! take back the luggage and start the car—we're going!

Ches. (off stage): Again, your majesty? So be it.

Hubby (dumbly): Jump in the river—jump in the——

Wife (practically): I knew I was dreaming!

IN WHICH GAMALIEL SAYS IT BADLY.

Senator Harding has apparently spent most of his life upon his front porch. At any rate, he cannot have spent much of it in his library. He claims to have seen plays by Shakspeare which Shakspeare never wrote. He says the Republican party had its birth to free the slave labor of America, whereas any history would have revealed that the party came into being to prevent the spread of slavery. There is no more interesting chapter in our history than that covering the period between these statements, and any candidate for President ought to know about it. However, it is when the Senator philosophizes that his deficiencies, as the Springfield (Mass.) Republican puts it, go deep into pure intellect. The Republican makes the point that one may have had little schooling and still be a master of English, as Lincoln was. Not so with the Senator. He can neither think clearly nor express clearly what he does think. The Republican works at some of his statements a little here:

"A person who has ideas to exchange and is fully capable of putting his ideas in a form which will carry them straight to the mark will not say as Mr. Harding said: 'Contentment is the awaiting avenue to paralysis.' What may an awaiting avenue be? Can an avenue await?

"'Our system is all right, it is the judgment of the ages, and here in America we have wrought the supreme achievement.' So says Mr. Harding. Yet within 10 lines we find him saying as positively that we cannot 'fabricate the perfect world.' Why can't we, if it is the 'judgment of the ages' that our system in America is 'the supreme achievement' and is 'all right?'

"'As I look into your faces' acutely observed Mr. Harding, 'I can read the aspirations in many a breast.' Again: 'When we look each other in the face, soberly contemplating the great web of American life.' These examples of his style may be dismissed as the mixed metaphor floundering of an overworked and hurried rhetorician of the stump.

"But Mr. Harding's deficiencies go deep into pure intellect. 'What is the big inspiration of life?' he asked solemnly. 'The natural desire to excel,' was his answer. But the selfish desire to excel can never be favorably compared with the desire to serve others, and be of service to the world, if an appeal is to be made not to the lowest but to the highest elements of the character of citizen and nation."

Think of Harding writing messages to Congress!

The MIRROR of PUBLIC OPINION

This column is designed to reproduce without bias the latest comment by the leading publicists, newspapers and periodicals on the questions of the day.

MEXICO'S PRESIDENT-ELECT.

From the New York World.

THE election of Gen. Alvaro Obregon to be President of Mexico was attended by neither disorder nor excitement. Apparently it was regarded as a foregone conclusion, for the vote received by his opponent was insignificant. The Liberal Constitutionalist party, of which Obregon is a member, was already in control of the Mexican Congress, and that in itself would plainly indicate the strength of the political sentiment behind his candidacy. While a General who fairly earned a reputation in the field, Obregon does not really belong to the professional soldier class which has been at the bottom of so many of Mexico's political troubles. In public utterances he has revealed a strong inclination to adhere to the policy of civilian control of the Government which Carranza, to his credit, sought to establish. If he has the force of character and the political backing to persist in that course and free Mexico from the domination of the Generals who used their forces for their own advancement in power and to rid it of the curse of their personal rivalries, he will render his country an immense service. Mexico needs nothing so much as time and opportunity to recover from its long succession of revolutionary and civil disturbances. Without a stable Government, secure in the popular favor, it cannot hope to make progress with the orderly administration of the laws and command the respect of other nations whose co-operation is necessary to its well-being. Obregon himself is the creature of the restless conditions that have prevailed since the overthrow of Diaz, but he exhibits in his conduct more of the solidity of character that goes to the making of a temperate and intelligent ruler than any of the Generals who have come to the fore in Mexico in the last 12 years. It will be Mexico's good fortune if foreign hopes of him are not deceived.

MAJORITY RULES HIGHEST COURT.

ALLEYNE IRELAND in North American Review.

A STRIKING characteristic of the Constitution is that the power of the Supreme Court to declare any law unconstitutional carries with it the power to determine the general policy of the nation in matters of the utmost importance and of the most far-reaching consequences. Those who remember the heated controversy which, 20 years ago, raged around the question of whether the United States could constitutionally retain sovereignty over the Philippine Islands and Porto Rico without making them either states or territories of the Union, will remember that the issue was decided in the affirmative by a five to four decision of the Supreme Court, in a case having to do with the levying of duty on goods imported into the United States from the Islands. It is clear that if the decision had been in the negative, the alternative presented to the nation would have been between giving up the Islands and incorporating them in the political system of the United States. It is well within the range of possibility that, faced with such a choice, public sentiment would have demanded that the Islands be given up. So, this grave question of whether the United States should retain in its polity the doctrine of Government of the people, for the people, by the people, or should dilute it with the principle of imperialism, was settled, once for all, by the opinion of one judge, that is to say, by the opinion of one person out of a population of eighty millions, and that person not elected by the people, or by any group of them, but appointed by an executive officer of the Government. It would be difficult to find in history—outside the annals of despotism—any instance in which a decision so momentous has been left to the infallibility of the odd man.

The NEEDLE TOWER GHOST

by Robert Welles Ritchie

THIRD INSTALLMENT.

A PALTRY trifle serves to focus the attention of New Yorkers, so avid are the denizens of steel and stone hives to see or hear some new thing. By the time the market closed the Needle Tower's chaste prism mounting to the winter sky, with its bronze capping lantern glowing golden in the sunset, was the focal point for a thousand eyes. To the crowd the tier on tier of windows up the sheer sides of the monolith were so many dumb mouths, which might open any minute to give voice to that ghostly message already heard by a favored few. When with the coming of the early dark each of these windows became a sparkling jewel of light, the crowd jamming the black canon at the Tower's foot became so dense traffic cops had to pry lanes through it. And now all the afternoon papers, smarting under the beat administered by the Evening Breeze, strove to outyell the veteran lungs of that lucky organ.

Just before the market closed a sudden bear raid upon Needle Tower preferred popped out of the dull routine of a listless day. The blow came from nowhere, after the manner of vicious financial bludgeonings of the giants. None knew the hand that wielded the club. The shifting, gaping crowd outside the doors of the exchange, awaiting a new prodigy to be born in the Needle Tower, was reason enough for a raid on the Tower's integrity. Rumor had it that already scores of its tenants were giving notice of lease cancellation. Wise men of the street said no office building could survive the bad luck of harboring such a Jonah. In half an hour of mad dumping the Tower stocks dropped from 69 to 31, and only the bell saved them.

It was a council of desperation that was being held in Mr. Lucky's private office; the Tower's leading directors, Sydes, the manager, and Upshaw of the telephone company being present. Two sleuths of a private detective agency had reported the ghost business positively had not been an "inside job;" they'd questioned every night employe of the building and found not a lead anywhere. None of the directors could hazard a guess as to the individual who had coldly leveled this blow at the value of Needle Tower stock; none of the street crowd had ever tried before, they said, to put the Tower on the skids. Then up spake Mr. Upshaw, the telephone engineer, timidly as befitting a mere technician among men of large affairs:

"I'm not so sure the telephone in Mr. Lucky's office was the one used. Anybody—any tenant directly below or above these offices on any of the floors could, if he knew how to do the trick, cut through his wall into the telephone conduit and splice on this number's wire. That would give the signal of Carhart, Lucky & Carhart at the Broad exchange, you know."

Sydes leaped upon the telephone man, his hands gripping the other's shoulders.

"Say, man! Why didn't you peep something like this before, when we had time to go over the building and inspect our wires? What do you mean, cut through the conduit? How—why the devil haven't you got busy?"

"Plenty of time before midnight, Mr. Sydes, if you want the telephone company to send over a squad of inspectors and testers. Test out all the phones on the trunk feeding this office—you know, one trunk running down each of the four corners in the building. Wire from this office in the same bundle with 40 or 50 others, and"——

"Shoot over your men—50 of 'em—a hundred! Try out every phone in the building. More men we have in this building tonight the better. I'll be here all night—double set of watchmen and two detectives on the sidewalk just outside the door. Now"—— He plunged out of the conference room.

* * * * * * *

Eleven o'clock in the dark of downtown—the dark of the stone jungle. Here and there the feeble spark of a corner street lamp, ringed about by a halo of reflected silver from the glistening asphalt; rising on every hand up and up into the furry darkness the hump-shouldered shapes of skyscrapers—monstrous, unworldly, chimerical. Thin fringes of snow on aerial gallery and pinnacle distilled marsh light, pencilled the dark with faint lines, revealing hidden heights.

Out of the subway kiosk in front of Trinity's churchyard spilled a noisy score of men and women. They chattered, they called one to another in tones consciously pitched against the silence, and began to descend the little hill of Wall street to the engulfing blackness where Broad crossed. Down the canon of Nassau street came another group of venturers. The incandescent eyes of a taxicab suddenly peered around the stone buttress of Pine street and moved down towards the gathering of pedestrians. Other autos came, bringing the joymakers of Broadway's day to the gloom of Broad street's night. Every downtown subway discharged an ever-increasing freight at the Wall street station. The pioneer score at the foot of the Needle Tower grew to a hundred—500—a thousand. The word had passed through all the white streets of fun and folly uptown; a ghost party at midnight at the Needle Tower. Something new—something outre; enough of a bait to hook volatile New York.

Something was going on in the tower which served to hold the attention of the silent crowd. There, along one knife edge of the great plinth, sparks of sudden radiance were shunted on and off, glowed and waned by intervals as if some capricious genius of this man-made wilderness were rendering a nocturne on stops of light. The only lighted windows, these, in all the jumbled bulks of darkness about. The nerves of the throng were tensed by this unexplained play of fairy fire in the domain of the ghost.

At 20 minutes to 12, young Mr. Jack Skelly of the Evening Breeze concluded a satisfactory financial arrangement with the janitor of the Merchants' and Miners' Building, and, with a photographer and flashlight outfit, was lifted to the roof just above the Broad exchange of the telephone company. His city editor, fretting at his desk in his eagerness to preserve his paper's glory of discovery from jealous raids by the morning sheets, had commanded: "Get a flash of the tower at midnight—on the dot. The picture may show something; I don't know what, but something."

The janitor ushered the two through the roof trap and on to the eerie tableland of the night. As they approached the stone coping on the edge of space, beyond which the square face of the tower rose like a chiseled cemetery stone, the cloaked figure of a girl detached itself from the shadow of the balustrade and approached them.

"I—I just had to come up here from the exchange," she explained. "I got the jumps so bad down there at the board—what with another midnight coming and all—I couldn't sit still."

"Stick around, little girl," was Skelly's cheerful welcome of companionship. "You may see the Evening Breeze catch the ghost on a plate."

A minute to 12. The photographer had his camera on the coping's top trained upon the Needle Tower across the street; he waited with finger on the trigger of the flash pan. The telephone girl stood very close to Skelly; her hand groped timidly for him. The reporter kept his eyes on the luminous face of his wrist watch. "Get ready!" he commanded.

The first bell of Trinity chime and——

"This is the hour I died."

Bang! The flashlight made day for an instant. A yell from the bottom of the pit where lay the street.

"Oh, my God! I saw it!" The telephone girl buried her face on the reporter's shoulder, clutching at the lapels of his overcoat, shuddering and sobbing. Skelly, the awful timbre of the voice still thrumming against his eardrums, his skin pricking with fear, seized the girl's hands and whirled her about to face him.

"What did you see? What did you see? Out with it." He shook her roughly.

"A—a something. It was round and black—li-like a man's head poked out from a window, right over there in the tower. It was looking at us—only it didn't have eyes."

"Like a man's head," Skelly echoed. "Yes—yes, little girl; anything else?"

"Maybe like a man's head," she whispered between chattering teeth. "Only there wasn't any face—just round blackness. But it spoke just like I heard it on the wire last night and night before; only louder this time."

To Be Concluded Tomorrow.

Bang! . . . The flashlight made day for an instant. The telephone girl buried her face on the reporter's shoulder, shuddering and sobbing.

THE REFRIGERATOR.

A GOOD refrigerator is built with double walls, and has several layers of non-conducting material, to keep the heat out. The ice chamber should be so arranged that it can be easily filled, and should have a straight pipe, not too small to be easily cleaned, for carrying off the water. Closets for food should have enameled or tiled lining, which is nonabsorptive, and may be kept absolutely clean. Zinc and similar materials must be washed very often, and even so cannot be kept clean, in the chemical sense.

Artificial ice, made from distilled water, is cleaner, and therefore safer than natural ice. It should be washed before being put into the chamber. The ice chamber should be washed once a week, and a solution of washing soda poured down the waste pipe. Food chambers should be washed once a week, dried, and if possible, sunned. No spilled food should be left for a moment. Food should be placed in the chambers in covered containers, and the doors of the chambers should be kept always closed tight.

If the waste drains into the waste pipe of the house, there should be a trap, to make sure that no foul odors escape back into the house. If a drain basin must be used it should be washed daily with soap and boiling water. It is almost incredible how soon the botton and sides of a vessel in which water stands become foul and a source of danger. The refrigerator should be the cleanest thing in the house, and any ordor in the least bad should be traced to its source—a bad odor is always a bad sign, and must not be neglected.

BURGESS BEDTIME STORIES

The Little Rabbit Has Other Visitors

By THORNTON W. BURGESS

When Fox or Wolf attempts a grin
His teeth he cannot keep within.
—Peter Rabbit.

JUST seeing Peter Rabbit had made Peter's little son the most homesick little Rabbit in all the Great World. There he was a prisoner in Farmer Brown's hen yard. To be sure, it was a nice big yard for so small a Rabbit, and until Peter had appeared and talked to him from the outside he had not been unhappy. In fact, he hadn't thought much about the matter. But that visit from his father had made him understand just what it means to be a prisoner, and he longed for home and the dear Old Briar-patch so that his heart ached.

From far down on the Green Meadows toward the dear Old Briar-patch the great voice of Bowser the Hound came to him as he crouched in the box which was now his home in a corner of the hen yard. Bowser's voice grew fainter and fainter. Finally the little Rabbit could not hear it at all. For the time being he forgot his own personal affairs in a new anxiety. He was worried now about his father who, you know, was Peter Rabbit. It was Peter whom Bowser had been chasing.

The little Rabbit came out of the box and hopped over to the wire fence. He got just as close to it as he could. Then he sat up to listen. It seemed to him that he could hear better sitting up. But there was no longer any sound of Bowser's great voice. The little Rabbit looked up at the stars and wished that they could tell him what had happened down there on the Green Meadows. They must know, for they could look down and see all things below. Had Bowser caught Peter Rabbit, or had Peter reached the dear Old Briar-patch? It would be the most dreadful thing that ever was if his father, Peter Rabbit, had lost his life. The little Rabbit swallowed very hard, indeed, and two big tears rolled down his cheeks.

"If anything has happened to him it will be all my fault," he sobbed. "Bowser the Hound would not have found him if he hadn't come up here to see me. Oh, why, why did I ever run away?"

"Well, well, well!" exclaimed a sharp voice, so close that the little Rabbit jumped and ran a few steps before even looking to see who the speaker might be. "Well, well, well! If here isn't a little cry-baby!"

Just outside that wire fence sat Reddy Fox, and he was grinning as he looked in through the wire netting. There was such a hungry look in Reddy's eyes that the little Rabbit shivered. Then it came over him that he was safe, and it was that wire netting that made him safe. Not even the dear Old Briar-patch was quite so safe a place as that hen yard. A great gladness that he was inside it, instead of outside it, filled him, and he winked away the tears. He even hopped a little nearer the fence and made a face at Reddy Fox. Reddy merely grinned more broadly than before. You see, he knew exactly how that little Rabbit felt.

Just then a low growl caused Reddy to jump just as the little Rabbit had jumped when Reddy had first spoken. Reddy snarled and backed away. Still snarling, he turned and trotted away, and Old Man Coyote took his place close to the wire fence and looked through it at the little Rabbit.

"So here is the young runaway for whom we have been looking," said he, and tried to make his voice sound pleasant. "Too bad! Too bad! If only I had found you this wouldn't have happened. It is a dreadful thing to be a prisoner. I know, for I was one once. Too bad! Too bad!"

Again the little Rabbit made a face. "It isn't too bad at all," he declared. "It is a great deal better to be a prisoner in Farmer Brown's hen yard than to be in your stomach, Old Man Coyote, so don't waste any pity on me."

Old Man Coyote grinned. "That depends on the point of view," said he. "Now, I would much rather have you in my stomach than see you a prisoner in this hen yard. But perhaps that will come later." He grinned again and trotted away in the darkness.

FASHION'S FANCIES

FOR school wear there is nothing nicer than the dark colored bloomers. The shops are showing them in black and navy sateen. Or if you prefer you can get them in white or pink sateen, and then there are the serviceable natural colored crash which many mothers prefer for wear with everyday wash dresses.

For the juniors there are new coats coming which express comfort in every detail. One for the little miss is made up of chinchilla cloth in battleship gray and the trimmings are of scarlet leather. A tam to match this attractive garment is also shown.

Among the new articles of jewelry black and white effects are conspicuous. Diamond brooches set with black enamel are decidedly effective. In earrings the circlets are now a fad, and pretty ones are shown with the outer circle in jet and the inner circle with diamonds, pearls or mother-of-pearl. A handsome neck chain is of jet and cut crystal beads in alternating black and white effect.

WHAT I WOULD DO WITH $50,000,000

By SOPHIE IRENE LOEB

SINCE Arthur Walker, a clerk, fell heir to $50,000,000, the question has been put up to prominent people what they would do if overnight someone left them such a sum.

The Mayor of New York first said that he would drop dead. But that if he did survive the shock he would take care of the poor mothers and children of the city. The Mayor stated:

"A man can fight his way to a living for himself and his family usually, but a mother in need, with children to care for, faces a bitter problem.

"She must earn money or she must be separated from her children.

"It's the parting from loved ones after the death of the bread winner of the family that is the saddest phase of life. I'd try to stop that if I had $50,000,000 or anything like it."

These are very wise words from the worthy Mayor.

This is economy of the highest order.

I would see that every boy or girl who wanted to go to high school and get a little more education in order to fit them for the future would have the chance.

Many of these children must quit school very early in order to help make the living for the family. I'd give a little money to these mothers in place of their children's wages, in order that they might have their extra schooling.

I would take the children of a sick mother and secure some kind relative or friend to care for them while the mother was getting well in some hospital or sanitarium, so that the home might not be broken up.

I would strengthen the employment agency of these children so that the children of these widows would not need to take the first job that was offered, but would secure something for which they were particularly fitted, so that in after years they might not have to look back and deplore the fact that they did not have the proper chance in the beginning.

I would take the weak families out of dingy dwellings and put them into light, sunny, airy rooms. I would give the tired, working mother and her children a vacation of several weeks in the summer out on God's green acres and under conditions of the least possible care to them.

I would buy the poor woman who washes clothes for a living an electric washing machine and an iron.

These are but a few of the things I would do if I had $50,000,000. What would you do, gentle reader?

UNCOMMON SENSE

By John Blake

Don't Work Beyond Your Limit

THERE is little danger that you will overwork. The amount of underwork is so much greater than the amount of overwork that it seems hardly necessary to counsel people against overdoing.

Still there are limits beyond which effort is unwise.

A time comes when a man's faculties are dulled by the task he is doing, and when it is far wiser to stop all work and allow the worn tissues to build up before tackling it afresh.

Any brain worker who has toiled long at night knows that it pays to stop before he is too tired and go at the job when the morning brings clearer thinking power.

In everything that you do set yourself a limit.

Make the limit high. Say, "I will do just so much of this today," fixing the amount at considerably more than you care to do when you start.

When you have reached that limit, quit. Rest, or play, or sleep. Dismiss the work you are doing from your mind. Don't think of it at all.

The next day go back to it fixing a still higher limit. You will find that you can do more on a given task the longer you keep at it.

But as soon as you find that it is hard to concentrate your attention, stop.

Fatigue, as you know, forms poisons in the tissues, and the poisons if permitted to form without elimination will bring on sickness and final breakdown.

By working hard while you work, by concentrating all your energies to the job in hand you can accomplish a great deal, vastly more than you have been accomplishing in the past.

But be content with a reasonable amount of effort—remembering that a reasonable amount of effort is usually more than you think you ought to do.

And while you are working, work. Loafing in the middle of a job breaks continuity of thought, and without sustained effort the mind slows down and starting it again is difficult.

Set your limit and stick to it. But set a high limit always.

REFLECTIONS OF A BACHELOR GIRL

By HELEN ROWLAND.

MANY a man waits until after 40 to look for real love—and then discovers that his eyes are so dim that he can't tell it from all the glittering imitations.

When a man tells a pretty girl that he is married, she never quite knows, from his manner, whether he is boasting, apologizing, or looking for sympathy.

In these days of riding-breeches, overalls, bloomers, and one-piece bathing suits, it looks as if a girl were going out of her way to make the "sex-appeal" when she wears skirts.

How is it that a man can get more service out of a waiter with a growl and a 50-cent tip than a woman can coax from him with a dollar and a smile?

"Experience" is the gentle name which a man bestows upon his follies and mistakes, a woman gives to her sorrows and failures, and a poet to his sins and emotions.

A man never HEARS anything a woman says; because, before marriage he listens to her conversation with only his eyes, and after marriage with only half an ear-drum.

Somehow, as soon as a man and woman learn to love each other, they begin to think up ways of making each other suffer for it. Alas, why is it that one can only be "kind" to people for whom one cares nothing at all?

This is the time of year when only the hardest flowers and flirtations still survive the turbulent, torrid season.

Our Modern Cook.

TIME was when some mothers were proud of daughters who could fold their lily-white hands and say, "I don't know how to cook. Dinah attends to all that." That was in the days before the recent war, affirms the current number of the Thrift Magazine. With domestic science taught in the schools, and our magazines full of helpful, practical suggestions, our girls want to cook. But we cannot expect them to retain enthusiasm created in the schools unless we give some thought to the work ourselves. The kitchens should be made attractive, modern and sanitary, and furnished with the tools necessary to do efficient work. For instance, a vegetable and fruit set will peel without waste, and without soiling the hands, core the apples, leaving only a small round hole through the center, slice in lattice form potatoes for frying, cut apples into ribbons for ornamental fruit salads, etc.

It is easy to teach the girls the little things that help to make cooking more interesting. They should be taught to use freely old newspapers to clean the stoves, and spread over the table to save so much washing, to keep rice, sugar and all the spices in some sort of a container labeled, to save hunting through paper bags to find what they want. That the dish rag should be kept sweet and clean, as well as the dish towels, should also be borne in mind.

Favorite Colors.

FOR more dressy occasions, gray is to be emphasized in the most supple of clothes and the softest of silks this autumn. An attractive brick color will also be much used for entire frocks or for the trimming only. Royal blue, gobelin, mastic, dull green, brown, with a dash of plaided designs by way of good measure—all of these continue popular. A little fur may, of course, be used for trimming, if one likes; although the consensus of opinion seems to be that fur should be reserved for the suit and wrap, and that ribbons, laces and embroideries will be permitted to have their decorative way with the daytime frocks.

MORE TRUTH THAN POETRY

By James J. Montague.

SHEER WISDOM.

From early childhood I was taught
To place serene reliance
Upon the many wonders wrought
By gentlemen of science.
And therefore I was shocked to find
That science only doubles
The trials and worries of mankind
And multiplies its troubles.

"Tut! tut!" we said, "Dear me! My stars!
If science is the buncombe,
We'll have to take our motor cars
And railroad trains and junk 'em.
A man, in making ocean trips,
Can't even sail in low boats,
For science moves all modern ships;
He'll have to go in rowboats."

I straightway took the telephone
To call Columbia College,
And make to the professors known
My new acquired knowledge.
At least two hours, in a fret,
That stuffy booth I haunted
But all in vain; I couldn't get
The number that I wanted.

And then it struck me like a shot,
"The telephone appliance
Is one convenience we have got
From gentlemen of science."
Which said, I murmured, "I'll be blessed!
The Britisher that sired
The thought that science is a pest
Was certainly inspired!"
